Introduction

1983-84: Traditions And Changes

After going back over the pages of this yearbook many times during its production, we have seen that it quite fully tells the story of another year at Crossroads. This book chronicles the events in only a single chapter in the story of our school, and this chapter is, as each preceeding has been, a unique one.

The 1983-84 school year has been a year of tradition. Crossroads celebrates its tenth year in existence through 1984. The Chronicle returned to publish eight issues. We saw

Crossroads' third graduating class through its collective highs and lows. The soccer, volleyball, basketball, and softball teams represented us well on the field and on the court, through wins and through losses. Students continued to learn and grow in the classroom as well as through art projects, dramatic and musical productions, and independent study.

This has also been a year of change for us. Students and teachers worked with Sarah Linquist and Bob Fishbone in creating a mural for the whole community to enjoy, and improvements were made on the rough exterior to help make Crossroads look like a school and not a grocery store. In keeping with our renewed sense of school pride conveyed by external improvements, Crossroads has at last been equipped with showers. As the perspiration droplet was no longer a suitable mascot, with the addition of the showers came the change of our teams' name from the Crossroads Current to the Crossroads Cougars.

The purpose of our yearbook is to bring back the memories of a year. We hope that we have accomplished our goal. We also hope that our humorous tone will not offend anyone.

The cartoons which grace our division pages were done by E. Joshua Kohn. E. Josh, as one may infer from the tone of some of his drawings, is a junior this year. Address all complaints to his summer home (which he financed with his share of the royalties from this book).

Finally, we would like to thank our staff advisor, Chris "Let's Publish a Yearbook" Campbell, who spent countless hours in the basement, with rations of only water and stale crusts of bread without sunlight, coaching the production of the yearbook. What a swell guy he is.

On behalf of the entire yearbook staff, have a great summer!

THE STAFF MEETING:

Carol Lieber

Where would we all be now without Carol? Not here, and that's a fact. Why, you ask? Carol, along with Arthur, is one of the initial founders of this school. Before Crossroads (yes, there was life before Crossroads), "Moo-Mill", as a certain other Lieber calls her, was born in Baltimore, Maryland, and at the age of five began classical piano lessons. At the age of eleven, Carol suffered a tragic accident that prematurely ended her budding musical career. She does not wish to speak of it much now, but to this day, she can't stand the "clink" of empty soda cans.

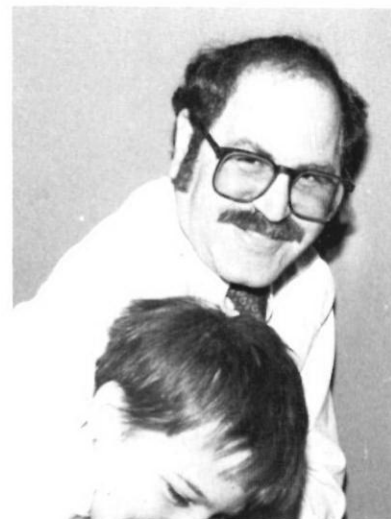

Dispirited by her horrible experience, Carol decided to put all her future energy into teaching. She was subsequently schooled at American University, and taught in public schools before she and Arthur embarked on Crossroads. She has, (like the school), been here for ten years, and currently teaches Western Civilization, World Literature, American Studies, Model Building and Archaeology (phew!). She wishes, in the future, to "dig" in Miletus (in Asia Minor), and to take a raft down the Mississippi. Also, she says she would like everyone to know that she does not wear "Eau de Ditto."

Arthur Lieber

This man, Arthur Lieber, is the man that makes Crossroads tick; the straw that stirs the Crossroads drink; the heart that makes Crossroads beat; and the brain that makes Crossroads think. It was 10 years ago, when Arthur, (Dookie), and wife Carol put their heads together and came up with the idea of Crossroads. Besides being involved in meetings with staff and supporters for financial backing, he is able to dedicate some of his time to teaching five classes. These classes are: Administrative Business Seminar, C.I.P.O., Discovering the City, Western Civilization and World Literature.

Arthur comes from St. Louis, and he graduated Cum Laude from Country Day School. He then went on to American University in one of his favorite towns, Washington D.C., and finished at Washington University (in St. Louis), receiving a degree in Political Science. Then he turned to the study of education, and earned his Masters degree from Webster University.

Despite the tremendous success of Crossroads, Arthur is not completely satisfied. He would like to have Crossroads fulfill philosophical tenets, and to find a viable way to keep tuition low and pay the faculty well.

Arthur has some personal goals as well. Even though he is dedicated to Crossroads, he could possibly be persuaded to take over as General Manager of the Cleveland Indians, or he would settle for a Major League contract, such as the one Ted Simmons has. He would also like to lose 20 pounds (as long as he could eat what he wanted, and exercise when he had the urge).

We all know that Arthur has a love for baseball, but he likes the challenge of keeping up intellectually with Carol even more.

Arthur, you've done a great job for 10 years, we all hope there are many more years to come.

Carmel Calsyn

Carmel has been at Crossroads for "Oh god, three hundred years." She is our illustrious Upper School head, and you'll recognize her as the only staff member who greets you in the hall by making a face at you. Carmel also teaches American Literature and A.P. English, and she helps seniors to find a good college. Carmel used to live in Michigan (although she is from Chicago). In her traumatic childhood, she attended Our Lady of Perpetual Pain, and was later an unsuccessful candidate for Papacy. Carmel wants you to know that she accepts bribes and is a connoisseur of tasteless jokes. Also, she hates people who think that Jessica Savitch is dead and prigs (i.e. people who look down on Monty Python). As for the future, who knows? Carmel would like to become a real man someday.

Rob Ciampoli

Rob, Paul's father, is also Crossroads' new Middle School Principal. Consequently, Rob has gained significant recognition since September (especially among 8th graders). Rob joined us from New City School, which seems to be logical seeing that many of our Middle Schoolers are also from New City.

Vee Lind

In her sixth year at Crossroads, teacher of Modern European History, Current Affairs, Creative Writing, Global Literature, particularly Shakespeare, Admissions Director and incredible idealist, is everyone's favorite Scottish lady, Vee Lind. Worshiper of Gandhi, Alan Paton, and

Winston Churchill, she is very proud of her heritage and proudly claims, "I am a Stewart!" She enjoys ballet, walking, outdoor theater, music, studying other cultures, horses (she owned one in Scotland), field hockey, tennis, and golf. Her favorite authors are Dickens, Frederick Forsythe, Poe, Aldous Huxley, and Shakespeare, and her favorite composers are Bach,

Handel and Beethoven. She follows global politics avidly and dislikes powerful countries that manipulate the weaker nations. One of her goals is to keep her two sons (an archaeologist and a doctor) out of the clutches of bankruptcy. The other is to please the Crossroads' staff with student admissions for the 1984-85 school year. Her claims to fame are her distinguished accent and the fact that she has "taught all races under the sun except Eskimo."

Rob's most famous quote is "Meet me in my office!", which is usually accompanied by a cool glance that would put any self-respecting air-conditioner to shame. This pre-algebra and integrated studies teacher is usually a rather sober person, but he's always armed with a joke (just ask him to tell you the one about "Hardships"). We're really excited about having Rob here, and we hope that he'll return next year.

Marjie Butler

Marjie has been with us since September of this year. She teaches 6th grade Literature, English, Social Studies and Interexploratorium. She also teaches two Middle School P.E. classes. She went to college in the middle of cattle country, Graceland College in Iowa. She majored in Recreation and Outdoor Education. She minored in Psychology. Before coming here, she taught and directed a day care center and worked for four years at a camp. In the future, Marjie would like to work with handicapped children and with senior citizens in the rest homes. Her outside interests are soccer, volleyball, horseback riding, rock collecting, camping, skiing, swimming and reading books. When asked how she feels about the sixth grade she simply replied, "They're great." Her only pet peeves are pumpkin guts, licking faces, scratching black boards and chewing tinfoil.

Ray Butler

This is Ray Butler's third year at Crossroads. Here he teaches 6th grade math, Logic and girls' basketball. Ray came to Crossroads from Southeast Missouri State University as a student; there he coached a mens' college Varsity soccer team and a women's college soccer team. Ray is married to Marjie (who is a teacher at Crossroads as well). Ray's interests are playing soccer, both indoor and outdoor; he also likes softball and football.

Ray is a very energetic guy, so look for him running up and down the sidelines in '84.

Louise Cameron

Louise teaches ceramics, drawing, art media and art history. Louise was born in Westfield, New Jersey, and previously taught in St. Louis public schools, the University of Northern Iowa, and Mongiello College. Louise also teaches at Mark Twain Summer Institute and at Crossroads. This is her fourth year here. Louise considers sailing her most serious hobby and hopes that her achievements will be to get certain students, who will remain nameless, under control.

Chris Campbell

Here is Chris Campbell; he has just finished his first year at Crossroads. Chris teaches 7th grade social studies and 10th grade English classes, as well as being the faculty advisor to the newspaper and yearbook staffs. Chris spent part of the winter coaching the guys' Varsity basketball team. Chris enjoys playing softball, golf, and basketball and intends to write the great American novel about Crossroads School. We would like Chris to return next year. Chris' pet peeve is the use of the word "alot." Alot of people use it as one word.

Wen Wei Du

Neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow can keep Wen Wei from his class at Crossroads. Known for riding his bike to school in all kinds of weather, Wen Wei is constantly astounding his students. Wen Wei acquired his B.A. at Fudan University in Shanghai and is now studying at Washington University where he will receive his Masters and Ph.D. in comparative literature. He is a guest speaker for the United Nations Association in St. Louis, and as a result, is frequently asked to speak to students at other schools. Here at Crossroads Wen Wei teaches Chinese Culture and Asian Studies. He's interested in all types of philosophy and although he misses the Peking Opera, he likes Classical and American country music.

Patty Costello

Se llama Patita co afeccion por los estudiantes espanoles. Patty Costello es la profesora de espanol. Antes de venir a Crossroads, Patita viayo a sudamerica y mejico para un ano y medio. Le gusta leer y bailar. Las cantoras favoritas son Joan Baez y Joanie Mitchell, admira Margaret Mead y Katherine Hepburn. Cuando Patita vivio en California le gusta andar en las montanas, y porque le gusta la naturaleza ella d nada dos o tres veces por semana. Aqui a Crossroads Patita instruye espanol, ingles y cocinar. Su mote esta: -Asi es la vida-.

Richard Fulton

This is Richard Fulton's second year at Crossroads. Having gone to a variety of colleges, he attained a well rounded education, and a reputation for quoting his grandmother. His interests are cooking, reading, and music. Among the classes he teaches is the 11th grade American History class. He thinks that the 11th grade is remarkably bright and motivated. He says that what he is doing right now is just what he wants to do, and in the future he would like to finish his Law Degree, and work on a Ph.D in history.

Anita Grunmann

This is Anita Grunmann. She has been here three years, teaching English, drama and speech. Before working at Crossroads she taught in a Catholic girls' school in the Wellston School District. She says that she cares about being gracious and nice and she'd rather be with Crossroads students than most she knows. She aspires to become a rich, famous Broadway director who will send money to Crossroads. (God knows the school needs it). Among her claims to fame is directing "Working."

Isabel Holt

Here is Isabel Lee Holt; better known as Dee Dee. This is Dee Dee's first year of teaching at Crossroads. She teaches two Algebra I classes and two typing classes. Dee Dee's future plans are to go back to graduate school, further her interest in Bio-Chemistry, and to continue teaching at Crossroads. Before coming to Crossroads, Dee Dee was a student at the University of Wisconsin; she spent her time running labs and doing research. Dee Dee's comments about Crossroads? "I like the school and the students."

Marian Hilfrink

Marian has taught at Crossroads for five years, and is our biology and outdoor education teacher. Marian is a very active person; she enjoys women's sports and wilderness activities, which include: canoeing, climbing and backpacking. Her favorite sport is soccer and her favorite musician, Michael Jackson. Marian's plans for the future are as follows:

- going to graduate school
  - doing field research in Alaska
  - doing wilderness expedition (in the summer)
  - and finally doing biology research
- We all hope to see Marian's cheerful face in the years to come.

Ellen Irons

Meet Ellen Irons; she's one of the newest teachers here at Crossroads.

Ellen teaches physics, Environmental Science and Systems I, II. Ellen's future goal is to continue teaching. Before coming to Crossroads Ellen worked at Double Helix, a new non-commercial radio system. As a new teacher here at Crossroads, Ellen likes the friendliness!

Steve Jonak

Steve Jonak, who's 29 years old, just completed his fourth year of teaching at Crossroads. This year, Steve undertook the tasks of teaching Algebra II; Algebra II/Trigonometry; Earth Science I and II; Topics in Higher Math; Reading in Science;

Ravages of War, and Man, Machines and Madness. Steve was also a ninth grade advisor and Upper School boys' soccer coach. In his spare time, the little he has, he enjoys rock climbing, sky diving, and soccer. Before coming to Crossroads, Steve graduated from the U.S.A.F. Academy in Colorado with a Bachelor of Science degree. In June of 1977, Steve was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant and stayed until July of 1978. He became a land surveyor, and later a teacher.

Martine Matzke

Mme Martine Matzke enseigne le français I, II, III ici depuis trois ans. Aussi elle contribue sa grande connaissance du français aux étudiants de AFS. Elle sert comme conseillère avec le professeur d'espagnole, Patty Costello. Couramment elle suit des cours de nuit à l'université de Webster comme maître de psychologie. Pendant l'été elle aiguise son habileté française en voyageant en France. Elle ajoute l'enthousiasme à n'importe quelle heure. Nous espérons l'avoir ici pour longtemps.

Karen Messenger

Karen, a ten year veteran of Crossroads, is pretending to be business manager, while doing a study for the government. She enjoys classical music, aerobics, classical ballet, and growing roses and pumpkins. Her idols are Mikhail Barishnikov, Itzak Perlman, and Jackie Sorenson, and her favorite authors are Chaim Potok and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. As for the school itself her favorite teachers are Vee Lind and Gary Scott, and her favorite activities are driving for school field trips and eating lunch. She hates abusive language, loud music, and vandalism of public property. In the future she would like to get her kids through school, and to see a financially sound Crossroads. Karen just wants to say to all of us, "Why waste all that good education on mere children."

Diane Picard

This is Diane's fourth year at Crossroads. A native St. Louisan, she teaches Pre-Algebra and computer programming. Diane claims to spend all of her time grading Algebra papers and computer assignments. Though she staunchly denies having any hobbies, her future plans include growing to at least 5'8" by 1986. Of her three dogs, Diane describes one as mindless, one as ugly, and the other as "okay." We hope to see her here for many more years.

Tanda Pommier

Tanda "Boy, are you gross!" Pommier has been teaching middle school science at Crossroads for 2 years. Tanda's hobbies include sweepstakes, puzzles, guitar and men, and she is very fond of Lightfoot, Chopin, Classical Russian composers and cats. In her spare time, Tanda enjoys travel and "all kinds of water sports." She hopes in the future to keep "all my smarts and all my parts in good working order for as long as possible." Tanda's idols are Isaac Newton and Murphy, but she hates people who put their butts on the tables and are discourteous. Tanda has a weird sense of humor, and enjoys doing weird things, which makes her a typical member of the Crossroads staff.

Melissa Politte

A new teacher at Crossroads, Melissa teaches 9th grade Western Civilization-World Literature and Rhetoric. Before coming to Crossroads she taught at South East Missouri University (SEMU) part time for three years. She also taught the 10th and 11th grades for one year in Perryville, Missouri, part time and at Belleville area colleges and at Meramec for two years.

Charlie Sitzer

Charlie is in his second year at Crossroads and confesses he still doesn't know what M.A.P.W.A.I.R. means. When we asked Charlie (also known as Chuck) who his idol is he replied, "My Mutt May, but my daily inspiration comes from Devonne." He cannot stand people with beards, but he is not quite sure why. When Charlie grows up, (if he grows up) he wants to be adopted by a Vietnamese family (a home at last!). Hey Chuck, what are your hobbies? "Yes." What's your claim to fame? "I'd rather not go into it now, talk to my sponsor about it." Sponsor? Oh well, thanks anyway Charlie.

Gary Scott

Gary is our ever-faithful music teacher. He has been at Crossroads for three years and teaches Music Appreciation, Chorus, and piano. Gary grew up in the slums of St. Louis where he became the leader of the Swine Butchers motorcycle gang. His interest in music led him to Washington University where he majored in Anthropology and French. (Seriously, Gary did graduate work in Music.) He later worked on an Indian reservation in South Dakota and worked for an invention marketing company (not Ronco) before he came to Crossroads. Gary's future goal is "to go on an archaeological expedition to Egypt and discover a pyramid," and his pet peeve is "people who can't see both sides of an issue." (Would you believe that the only part of this that isn't true is the part about the slums and the Swine Butchers.)

Laura Sterman

Laura has been teaching at Crossroads for two years. Before coming to Crossroads, she developed tests for public safety positions (policemen) for five years for New York state. She then moved to St. Louis and stayed at home with her two kids, now five and eight, who she now spends all of her free time with. Laura teaches Computer I and Pre-Algebra in the Middle School; in the Upper School, Geometry, Algebra II/Trig, Pre-Calculus and Calculus. The one thing Laura hates is when kids come to math class without a pencil.

Carol Wilds

When you call school during the day who's voice do you hear? Carol Wilds' school secretary. Carol has been here for one year. Before coming to Crossroads she spent her time on the track at Vic Tanny and bike riding. She wonders why she's here. Carol has done secretarial work since 1963 and was a travel agent for a while. In her spare time she likes skiing, jogging, biking and just about all sports.

Crossroads School has meant a lot over the past six years. Through good times and bad the staff and students have allowed me to grow in my own way, in my own direction. A faculty full of concern and understanding with a helpful hand of guidance. Crossroads School for sure was the best place for me to spend my high school years. All those years of Mock Legislature, the early beginning of the school newspaper, the Opinion, The Connection, the fundraisers, The paperdrives, "Jer Weather", the Washington D.C. trips, the biology hikes in the back alley of the old building, the mural, the cows, video projects, independent projects, the hundreds of field trips, the block parties, and the drama productions. All of which I was some part of and I thank Crossroads for it! This is a sad moment and is also a happy one. To use a phrase said before, "I have just come to the Crossroads of my life." -Dennis Walter Gorg, Jr. ("J.R.")

"The ultimate weakness of violence is that it is a descending spiral, begetting the very thing it seeks to destroy. Instead of diminishing evil, it multiplies it. Through violence you may murder the liar, but you cannot murder the lie, nor establish the truth. Through violence you murder the hater, but you do not murder hate. In fact, violence merely increases hate. Returning violence for violence multiplies violence, adding deeper darkness to a night already devoid of stars. I'd like to thank everybody, the staff, students and especially my family, the Colemans, who made it possible for me to come to the U.S. and made my year a great one. This has been an experience I shall always treasure and will never forget. A dream which has come true.

I Love You All!

START WHERE YOU STAND

Start where you stand and never mind the past;

The past won't help you in beginning new;
If you have left it all behind at last

Why, that's enough you're done with it,
you're through;

This is another chapter in the book;

This is another race that you have planned;
ed;

Don't give the backward days another look;

Start where you stand.

The world won't care about your old defeats

If you can start anew and win success;

The future is your time, and time is fleet

And there is much of work and strain and stress;

Forget the buried woes and dead dispairs;

Here is a brand-new trial right at hand;

The future is for him who does and dares;

Start where you stand.

Old failures will not halt, old triumphs aid;

Today's the thing, tomorrow soon will be;

Get in the fight and face it unafraid,

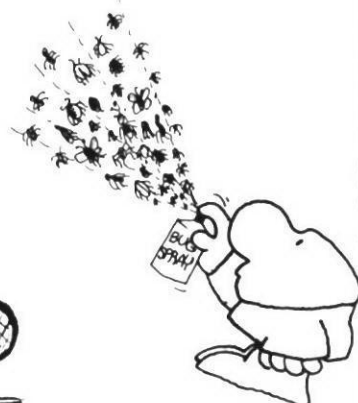

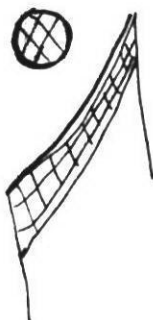

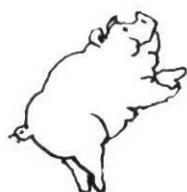

And leave the past to ancient history;

What has been, has been; yesterday is dead

And by it you are neither blessed nor banned;

Take courage, man, be brave and drive ahead;

Start where you stand.

Thank you, Mom and Dad!

No matter the consequences, I will always remember crimes of the heart. With all of mine - Thank you.....

And a very special thanks to all of my pals. I love you all.

"O is for Oz. Do you want to visit the wonderful far-off land of Oz where the wizard lives and the scarecrows can dance and the road is made of yellow bricks and everything is emerald green? Well, you can't because there is no land of Oz and there is no tin woodsman and there is no Santa Claus!..."

Maybe someday you can go to Detroit."

JUNIOR BIOS

.... AND THEN God MADE ALL THAT OTHER JUNK - LIKE SENIORS, TEACHERS AND OTHER ASSORTED SOME SUCH

David Alway

David, a three year veteran of Crossroads, is interested in philosophy and engineering. David likes soccer, Mozart, Van Halen, and volleyball. He hopes to get straight A's and go to MIT. David's claim to fame is his pro-nuclear stance, and his hobbies are karate and painting.

Debbi Brown

Debbi, (no "e"), is a Junior who joined us second trimester from Edwardsville High School. Debbi enjoys photography, drawing and dancing. She's a very talented and interesting young lady, plays the bass guitar, dances and sings "a little". As you may have guessed, Debbi likes music, in fact, she has a room in her house that contains nothing but records and musical equipment. Debbi's goal in life is to become the next Crissie Hynde. And Debbi's idols? The Clash, Sex Pistols, The Pretenders, Crissie Hynde, Mick Jones, etc...

Heidi Domzalski

Although Heidi's interests are too numerous to mention, she privately worships Joan Rivers and Pierce Brosnan, which explains her rowdy laugh. She likes classical and new wave music, and her favorite parts of the day are free period and lunch. Heidi is well-known for her off-the-wall behavior, and her future goal is to become a fun-loving college gal.

"Well, Steve, to tell you the truth, I don't understand this art stuff."

Kent Evans

Kent, who has no nickname, has blond hair and a harem of 9th grade girls surrounding him. He has developed many talents, for instance juggling, unicycling and other death-defying feats. He loves the Police and the Beat, and tennis is his favorite sport. Kent wants to be rich and famous or at least rich. His claim to fame is being the only jugglar at Crossroads who has been on Channel 9 (for 10 seconds).

Yup, this is actually supposed to be upside down!

Suzanne Drebes

Currently serving her first year at Crossroads, Suzanne has the amazing capability of being energetic all the time. Suzanne can't decide what her favorites are, but she does know her pet peeve is "men". She was the choreographer for this year's musical "Working", and her hobbies are dancing and acting.

Patrick Duffy

After suffering five years at Crossroads, Pat has finally reached the 11th grade. He openly worships Kareem Abdul Jabaar, which explains his strong interest in basketball. Pat can be found disrupting the Topics in Higher Math class with his friends Don and Josh. His interests are sports and science, and he's a member of the basketball and the soccer team.

He's Cool!!

Darryl Flaherty

Darryl's idol is, get this, himself. His hobby is education and his claim to fame is his glowing morality. His interests are journalism, A.F.S. and world peace. Darryl's pet peeves are Fido and Garfield, and he wants to be an international jet setter.

Don Ingerson

Don, otherwise known to his friends as "Ingy", is in his sixth year at Crossroads. He enjoys sports, especially soccer, and wishes to become a sportscaster. His idols are Garry Templeton, O.J. Anderson and Jorgen Petterson. He enjoys the music of Def Leppard. His claim to fame is that "I'm Swedish!"

Devonne Hutson

If you've ever talked to someone wearing Budman and his peanut on her collar, you've had the privilege of talking to Devonne. She has been a student resident at Crossroads for five years, and plans to go to Princeton University and become a stockbroker. Her idol is Tony Dorsett, her favorite sport is basketball, and she's also involved with journalism. Devonne's favorite musician is Pat Benatar and she has a strong dislike for studmen.

Just a typical day in Spanish class for T.R., Darryl and Caroline

Maury Jackson

Maury, one of the more outgoing 11th graders, describes himself as "a handsome, down to earth sort of guy." He's a devoted Michael Jackson fan and he hopes to win an Oscar in the near future. Maury can be seen dancing through the halls and joking with people, one of his favorite hobbies. His favorite class is U.S. History and his future plans are to get straight A's.

Josh Kohn

Josh has been at Crossroads 4 years and has contributed greatly: first to our walls with awesome drawing, and second to this year's musical, with his portrayal of Ralph Werner, a boring, trite, sap who claims ironically, to keep his hair clean and combed. Seriously, Josh should be given credit for occasionally combing his hair, a habit he started sometime in the first trimester.

Judging from the answers on his questionnaire, Josh's interests in drawing and acting can be better described as obsessions (they were included in four blanks), but those of us who know Josh, know that he's a healthy mellow dude. When asked who his favorite teacher is, Josh replied, sensibly, "I won't make a definitive implication towards any class or teacher."

Kendra McDaniel

Three times a day Kendra can be found in the bookstore selling bus passes and lunch orders to fortunate Crossroadians. Although Kendra is constantly listening to the radio, she claims that volleyball and French are her favorite classes. Alias "Weiser," Kendra occasionally lapses into Fits of laughter which can be heard throughout the hall. After three years at Crossroads she wants to be a pediatrician.

Stephen Lindsley

Stephen is a first-year Crossroadian who is into "all kind of music." He wears the usual attire of many Crossroadians—a green army jacket—which, unlike most, is void of patches, buttons and other scrawlings. Stephen plays the guitar, draws and is involved in photography. He favors soccer, American History and good rock. When questioned about his future goals, Stephen's answer was "None past the day after tomorrow."

Timothie Rochon

This is Timmie, otherwise known as Marilyn. She's a junior now in her second year at Crossroads. Outside of school she can often be found in the spotlight and in front of the camera. She has appeared in many fashion shows and her unique taste in clothes is evident to everyone at school. She's striving for fame and fortune, and who knows, maybe some day she'll be a big success like Marilyn Monroe!

Kristin Smith

This is Kristin. She likes soccer, Loverboy, gymnastics and Blues hockey. An aspiring journalist, Kristin wants to go to Northwestern and excel in television broadcasting. After attending Crossroads for four years, her pet peeves are Middle Schoolers less than knee-high, and Upper Schoolers less than waist high. Her hobbies are dating men and bingo, and she's an avid hockey fan.

Beth Sindel

Beth, alias Lizzie, hopes to graduate from Crossroads with good grades-no problem. Outside of school she (after homework) devotes her time to dance, babysitting, reading and video games. Beth can't stand the sound of styrofoam squeaking, but she does like boys, math and basketball. Although David Bowie is her idol, she also likes classical, rock and new wave music.

Tracy Switzer

Tracy Switzer, or T.R., occasionally known as T.H.C.R. came to Crossroads smack in the middle of 2nd trimester. T.R. came to Crossroads from Burroughs (eat your heart out!) and plans to go to Mizzou when he graduates. In his spare time, T.R. is the rhythm guitarist and lead singer for a rock band. He also enjoys playing soccer and football and listening to Rush and Bryan Adams, and makes a point of people spelling "Bryan" with "y," as apposed to an "i." His idol is Gonzo, and his claim to fame is, in his own words, "I'm me."

11TH Grade

Jennifer Armstrong

Jennifer has been at Crossroads for four years, how did she survive? Her favorite teacher is Vee, and her hobbies are bike riding, swimming, and shopping. Her favorite sports are baseball, basketball, swimming, and racquetball. She loves listening to Rhythm and Blues, and if she had a chance she would listen to the radio all day. Her future plans are to go to college and probably become an architect or go into business administration or journalism. Outside of school she participates in the Advisory Board, yearbook and working on the Chronicle.

Heather Bascom

Who in the heck is Heather? Well, I'll tell you who in the heck she is, gosh darn it. Heather came to us from Thomas Jefferson, where she underwent an in depth study of the Old Testament. Those who know Heather, well, love Heather, and call her Sister Mary Fred, dag nab it. If you haven't guessed, "Fred" hopes someday to be a nun, and have a very expensive habit. She idolizes Pope John II, and one day hopes to be exactly like him: old, Polish, and have Cardinal knowlege of everyone.

Alex Bishoff

This is Alex and he has just finished his second year at Crossroads. Alex greatly admires computers and loves to write programs for them. We can all see that Alex is the digital minded type. Alex says that he has no future that he knows about.

Cydney Camp

Cydney is a sophomore. She has been here for three years and everybody knows it. She loves shopping and money (pretty admirable, huh?) and idolizes anyone with money. Cyd's favorite class is cooking, but only as a hobby, someday she plans to be "a famous money making model". Good luck, Cyd!

Shana Cohen

Shana came aboard second trimester, from the big University City. Shana's interests are biology and clothes, while her hobbies are music and guys. She idolizes Michael Jackson, Prince, Vanity, and anybody who has touched them. Shana wants to be a Medical Doctor, and she abhors opera music and nagging mothers.

Brook Edinger

Introducing the future president of the U.S.S.R., Mr. Brook Edinger. Brook has been at Crossroads for five years. He enjoys running, and philosophy. His extra curricular activities are homework and reading. The one thing that makes him different is he does his homework. His idols are Mr. Rogers and Big Bird. You can tell that he is an intelligent person. Soviet Union, watch out.

Erik Dahms

Erik hates real people and aspires to be plastic. Erik had a nickname but he forgot it, it doesn't matter anyway because everybody knows who Erik is. He has been at Crossroads for five years. Yes, Virginia, he still functions normally and is probably better off for the experience. During these five years, Erik has come to the conclusion that he is the only person in the world who doesn't like Michael Jackson. Among other things, Erik jams to The Ramones, The Rolling Stones and cannot break dance. It is highly likely that Erik will return to Crossroads next year (so he can continue to worship the almighty Steve Jonak).

Elisabeth Emerson

Who around school like skinny dipping, Plato, Akido (a martial art), and rats? Elisabeth, sometimes known as Lisa or any other derivative of Elisabeth except Liz, which is her pet peeve. Lisa has been at Crossroads for three years. Two things make her different from everyone else, her brother Brian and she does her homework. How many people do you know who do their homework? Lisa's idol is Alexander the Great. Her future goals are to become a vet or a sheep farmer. Lisa has many extra-curricular activities, babysitting, Akido and doing homework.

Ted Epstein

We first noticed this person lurking in our corridors two years ago asking, "Anyone need a drummer?" Ted, or "Bubba," as he's come to be known, loves music. He is a natural born musician, and though he claims he cannot sing, you can usually catch him singing a line or two from one of his favorite songs. Not only does he love music, but he dares to be different, as he says "I still like Kiss." Every aspect of Ted's life involves music. His aspiration is to be the world's greatest drummer," and his Remember When, is the time he sang "Bridge Over Troubled Water" at Sam K.'s cast party.

Irene Freydina

Irene is in 10th grade and has been at Crossroads 3 years. Irene enjoys the easy listening sounds of the Police, Van-Halen and Genesis. Irene is interested in journalism, and also is doing an internship with the 7th graders and Middle School P.E. Everyone should know that Irene is responsible for everything in this yearbook because she typeset the whole gosh darn thing.

Kim Gaines

Kim has been at Crossroads for two years. Her only favorite song is the song "A Dream", by the DeBarges. Her only future plans are to graduate and go to Howard University. Her idols are Mark DeBarge and Marlon Jackson. Her pet peeves are silly people, bad breath and, of course, ugly guys. When asked what her claim to fame is, she modestly replies, "My super smile, dazzling personality and spectacular sense of humor." Her only extra-curricular activities are "Working" and anything else that needs to be done.

Ricky Gold

Ricky, also known as Yammi, is in his fourth year at Crossroads. He plays center-halfback for Crossroads' soccer team and for the Coca-Cola Soccer Club. He doesn't have any hobbies, but likes playing soccer. His favorite teachers are Steve Jonak, Ray Butler, and Martine Matzke. He idolizes the Rat and wants to be a neuro-seurgeon and a pro soccer player at the same time. His pet peeve is geometry, but he still loves Laura. His claim to fame is that all the teachers love him, right Laura?

Steve Johnson

Who falls asleep in class in front of the teacher? Who starts every sentence with "Um"? Who never has his homework done? Steve Johnson. Steve, who has been here for four years, likes to collect coins and to have fun with computers. Steve's interest is computers, and he would like to become a computer technician. His idol is Vee. (Does he have class or what?) The one thing that makes him different is the visor which he used to wear. You can be sure to find Steve in the computer room.

Brenda Hutson

Brenda, also known as Nerb, Chugs, Slick, Susker, and Sue Bren is known for her quick shower jokes and her not so quick phone calls. Her famous sayings are "slick" and "Slicker than snot on a door knob." Her hidden ambitions are to meet the group "Fred and the Fredettes" and to pass 10th grade without killing herself in the "shower on the soap". During soccer and basketball games she seems to find something interesting about the ground and falls immediately to look at it. Brenda's favorite hobbies consist of Oreo fights, McDonalds icecream fights, and trying to get a tan in the middle of February.

David Koch

David, named "Moose" for his uncanny resemblance to Moose in the Archie comics, stands 6'3", and his favorite sport is basketball (he underlined it 5 times in the questionnaire). Anyone who has been off-campus with David during lunch hour knows of his tremendous appetite that rivals even James Duffy's. But somehow most of the inches he gains take the form of height. His favorite classes are economics and geometry, and his least favorite class is bio II. His pet peeve is, ironically, "McNugget Mania." David will be remembered for the complete absence of pretension in his personality, and occasionally, using his size advantage over Middle Schoolers.

Andrea Little

Andrea Little has no nickname! During each of her three years at Crossroads, people have tried to give her nicknames, ("Sheeso", given by Arthur; Little Andrea; Andy; etc.) but none of them seem to catch on. This wouldn't be such a loss, except for the fact that she has no middle name. We all feel sorry for Andrea, but despite this handicap, she still manages to do her homework and make friends. Her close friends, Kathy, Miriam, Katie, Brenda, and Zan don't seem to mind, and she lives a regular life like the rest of us.

Lawrence Levi

Lawrence Levi, aptly nicknamed "Larry Lampert" by ridiculous Ricky Gold, is in his third year at Crossroads. Since Lawrence brought his elaborately twisted sense of humor to the shocked observers at Crossroads, he has added to his flagrant personality an avid admiration of Boy George and Tony Glavin, and a Devo Action Vest, the prize item of his wardrobe. Lawrence is often seen wandering through the halls making such comments as "Am I home yet?" His goals in life are to become a sex god or Boy George, whichever comes first.

David MacVittie

David "Dave" MacVittie's consuming passions are girls, cars, rock 'n roll, girls and cars. Dave spends most of his time striving for more breathtaking heights of accomplishment in one or more of these wholesome pursuits. At the beginning of third trimester, Davia followed the usual course for any Crossroads student and dropped out to join the armed forces. Maybe we'll see Dave again in a recruiting commercial.

Micky McNamara

Micky has been at Crossroads for a big 4 years and, since the departure of Alex Boynton is the only person at Crossroads who can still be seen bouncing through the halls. Micky has left her mark here at Crossroads, and she's still making it. She has been involved in drama productions, either as the halfway-over-the-edge school librarian in "Up the Down Staircase" or the seldom-seen-but-much-appreciated production stage manager in "Working." Micky loves listening to music and idolizes anyone who has played a musical instrument faithfully for more than 5 years. Her pet peeve is people misquoting Shakespeare, and some of her favorite musicians are Genesis, Heart, Bach and Beethoven.

Zakauddin Mahmood

Zaki, or Zakamud, is in his second year at Crossroads and is currently in the 10th grade. Zaki enjoys Foreign Policy class, basketball, tennis and coin collecting. Zaki likes sports and he's built for it. In that avenue of his life involving basketball, he is nicknamed "Big Zak," based on Arthur's enthusiastic pep-talk last year when he declared, "We're gonna have Big Zak attack!" Although Zaki's idol is Bjorn Borg, his future goals are more practical. Zaki wants to be a "successful architect." Zaki will be remembered for his remarkable uncertain presentation, during Vee's class, of a defense of realism. He eventually proved that an idealist can succeed.

Jeff Melnick

Jeff has been here every year, for four years. Jeff, known collectively as, "Melnick," "Anita's Son," or "Ricky's Cute Friend," has his own fan club, the entire female population of the Middle School. Despite all of this attention, Jeff is interested in only one thing-soccer. He eats, breathes, and lives for it. His goals for the future are to be either, a professional goal keeper or broadcaster. His idol is Tony Shumacher (goal keeper, from West Germany, of course), and, ironically, his hobby is collecting baseball cards.

Heather Moore

This is Heather, and she likes the sun, and hearts, and Bohemians, and can still think after 2 years of Crossroads attendance. She likes anyone Swiss, but thinks ignorance should be abolished through the establishment of tiny Sarah Lawrence's the world over. Heather, however feels she is destined through a bizarre twist of Karma for the original in palatial Bronxville. Dogs and chocolate have created menacing spectres of bite and cavities, but Heather tolerates both with admirable strength.

Audrey Lee Morgan

Audrey, an aspiring veterinarian and homework-avoider extraordinaire, has been at Crossroads for two years. Audrey Lee enjoys listening to the crystalline vocals of such musical stars as Willie Nelson and Waylon Jennings. "Pepper" (for some bizarre, unfathomable reason she likes being called this) also enjoys engaging in feminine activities like soccer and street hockey. We hope to have ole' Pepper back next year.

Mittency Pastard

In short, Mittency is a very diverse and interesting person. He loves music and even manages a band! Some of his favorite musicians are Mozart, Bach and Jimmie Hendricks (what a combination). He hasn't decided what he wants to do in the future, but he does know that he wants "to have a little fun, make a little money." Mittency's a very interesting person to talk to, and has a philosophy for everything. If you don't believe us, just ask his best friend, "Just about anyone."

Caroline Reinach

This is Caroline who is enjoying her first year here after transferring from University City. She loves to ski, play tennis, dance, and listen to music. Her idols are musicians John Taylor of Duran Duran and Sting of the Plice. She wants to "live her life to the fullest and enjoy every moment of it." Her only pet peeve is being tickled. Caroline hopes to continue attending Crossroads throughout the rest of her high school days.

Lori Robbins

Lori has been at Crossroads for three years. She loves introducing Ellis Fred to Fred Ellise, and she also enjoys Peace On Earth, and Phil Danahue, and wrasslin'. She kinda likes Playdoh, too. Among her idols are the Monkees, Speed Racer, and Ellie Mae Clampetto. Her best friend is Buddah, and she would like the yearbook dedicated to him "with love," but if Crossroads non-secterian status prohibits the use of this name Ms. Robbins will settle for "Misty Recollections."

Amy Struckoff

Amy has been here a total of one year. She should definitely get the award for school spirit. She's always everywhere! She's the only one that everyone misses when she's absent (well, almost everyone). As any one of 203 students, and 20 staff members could tell you she is Prince's fan; Prince's #1 fan! Her only goal for the future, is to someday "see Prince's X-rated movie, when I'm old enough, of course." Her idols don't just stop at Prince, she also loves Sting, Paul McCartney, and James Dean. Her favorite remember when is, "I was born."

Kathy Stover

Kathy is in 10th grade and is known for her terrific smile. Her favorite musician is Michael Jackson, and she is a flawless typesetter. She helped typeset the yearbook and the Crossroads Chronicle. She also did an internship with the seventh grade.

Kathryn Schneider

Kathryn "Kati" has been at Crossroads for one year. Kati adores "every type of music that exists", and "Loves hats". She enjoys philosophizing on any subject, and revels in warm summer breezes laden with the flavor of a new day. Life holds few secrets from this perennial seeker of truth. Kati is currently involved in mastering her many dramatic and musical skills.

Kim Wilds

Kim (A.K.A. Kimbo and Berlee Boxer) is in 10th grade. Wow man! She grooves to the beat of The Monkeys and Alvin and the Chipmunks. Everyday she rushes home, to St. Charles (yes, that is in Missouri) to watch her idol Greg Brady bring peace and justice to the Brady house. Everybody loves Kim dearly and wishes that she would jump off the Empire State Building. (Sorry Kim) But seriously folks, Kim says that she has pondered the philosophy of life for quite a while, but hasn't come up with anything profound yet, let us know when you do, O.K. Kim?

WINN CRANE

Katherine Adams

Katherine, otherwise known as Kati (with an "i") is a member of the Metropolitan Ballet Co. of St. Louis. Most of her time is taken up with school, ballet, acting, reading, writing, homework, and happening. She is in her second year at Crossroads and her favorite authors are Noel Streetfield, L.M. Montgomery, and Madeline L'Engle. She enjoys watching Dr. Who and going to the movies with her friends. Her favorite teachers are Anita and Vee and her idols are Patricia McBride and Anna Pavlova. She can't stand people mistreating books (not textbooks) and she wants to be a dancer if she grows taller.

Sandi Baber

Sandi, (Sam) has been at Crossroads for 4 years. She empathetically states her spare time is occupied with cute guys, rock music, sports, and math. She also enjoys watching human behavior. Sandi really hates it when people interfere with other peoples lives. She claims she is different because of two teeth, hair, and a tail. In the future Sandi plans to become a cop. Sandi spends what is left of her spare time, playing sports.

Mary Ellen Alexander

Mary Ellen just got done with her second year at Crossroads. She empathetically states that she enjoys Bo and Ralph watching. Her favorite musicians are El DeBarge and Prince. Mary says that in the near future she plans to become the President of the United States and have Ralph as her first man. Her only complaints are about Audrey, Anuke, Michelle, Nelle and of course, The Illiad.

Belynda Bailey

Belynda is better known as "Bennie". She has developed a great sense of knowledge of some people, or so she says. "Bennie" has no goats but enjoys the Sex Pistols, David Bowie and of course she likes movies. Her idols are Billy Joel, Ziggy Stardust and yes Marilyn. She absolutely can't stand people who are fake. Hang in there Belynda; three more years left.

Michelle Bauchard

Michelle alias Gumby has just finished her second year here at Crossroads. She enjoys hockey and basketball, Carol, and the music of Prince. Her idols are Marilyn Monroe and Gumby. Michelle has been known to exclaim "My pet peeves are Audrey, Nelle, Mary, Anuke, and Niki."

"What's in the locker, James? It smells like it died."

Philip Brown

Philip just completed his third year here at Crossroads School. Phil enjoys sports and girls. Some of his favorite pastimes are classical polo and movies. Phil's favorite person is Mr. Rogers. He is well known at Crossroads for his quiet but happy-go-lucky character and for always trying his hardest on the sports teams.

Nelle Byrne

Nelle just made it through her fourth year at Crossroads. She likes Prince, hockey, basketball, and Gumby. She enjoys going out with her friends. In the future she plans to become rich with nothing to do all day. She really hates fake people. She is best known for people saying that she is so damn quiet. She spends most of her time playing basketball.

Michael Castelli

Michael otherwise known as "spaghetti" is in his third year at Crossroads. Owner of a growing bagel and lox business, this 6 foot 4 inch blond haired blue eyed god turns heads when he walks into George Turner's gym. Castelli enjoys surfing, weight lifting, and sun bathing in the nude on a crowded beach. A devout Buddhist, (and a Hassidic Jew on the side), Michael enjoys cruising chicks and sucking face. Michael is known for his parade of girls who are constantly found following him down the hall drooling, but because of his future plans to enter a monastery after high school, he abstains from falling into their kniving little traps. His claim to fame is his down to earth modesty.

Nicole Chatman

Nicole just finished her first year at Crossroads. Her favorite class is French taught by Martine. She plans in the far future to go to medical school and become a doctor. Nicole is different from the rest of us, by her unique handwriting. She spent part of her time this year helping to design the model for the school.

Paul Ciampoli

Paul just completed his third year at Crossroads. He enjoys basketball, Journey, and playing indoor soccer. He plans to major in journalism in college. Paul claims that he is the only person in school to listen to the Rolling Stones 45 record "Under Cover of the Night" twenty-six times in a row.

Keith Clark

Keith has just finished his first year here. Keith loves playing the drums and hopes to play them professionally in the future. He likes to listen to Journey and his idol is Carl Palmer. His only pet peeve is cold toilet seats. We all look forward to his return next year.

Scott Condit

This is Scott's first year at your favorite and mine, Crossroads. His favorite musical groups are Orchestral Maneuvers In The Dark and Heaven 17. Among his pet peeves are people that think they're funny, and school in general.

Anuke Corbett

Here's Anuke whose been at Crossroads three years. Most of us know Anuke as Buck-y-wheatta. Her many idols are El DeBarge, Ralph, Bo, Prince, Gumby, and Buckwheat. Anuke is known for stating "I have everyone in check especially Mary Alexander and Audrey Garrett". She seems to spend most of her time doing her homework or answering the many phone calls from her admiring fans.

Dawn Daniels

Dawn, known as Disco, just completed year number two at Crossroads. She enjoys dancing, talking on the phone, soul music and basketball. Her interests are young handsome men, and she plans to become a computer science technician. She hopes to be the best she can at all times and that is "tip-top sharp." Good luck Dawn.

Jason DeRanek

Jason just finished his first year at Crossroads. His hobby is music and he really enjoys listening to the Dead Kennedys and the Stray Cats. He has an interest in photography, but just plans to make it out of Crossroads, in the near future. He likes Mr. Bill but detests the Smurfs.

David Dougherty

David Dougherty is Back! David hovered over us like a shadow for three years, until he finally decided to leave. And came back! David's known for his six-foot-two-inch-stature, and his unmatched contribution to the basketball teams. David loves music, and his favorite artists are Jim Morrison and Frank Zappa. He's a fairly private person, so if you should need any more information about him, you'll have to jump up and ask him.

Molly Drebes

This is Molly, she has just finished her first year at Crossroads. Molly enjoys playing the violin and going swimming. She likes to play sports and listening to the Police, and she hates when her sister tells her to shut her mouth when she's eating. We have enjoyed Molly's company this year and would like to see her next year.

James Duffy

James Duffy, a.k.a. "Chuck," says that he has been here, at Crossroads, long enough. He claims to have no hobbies, interests, or future goals. His idols are James Dean, Chuck Yeager, and, of course, himself. What little spare time he has he spends working with the Upper School Advisory Board and occasionally taking photos for the Crossroads Chronicle. He claims that he is best known for his hat and a brown bandana around his wrist.

Alison Dunlop

Alison, "Al" or "Son", is in her third year at Crossroads. This future artist enjoys drawing, drinking, U2, Pretenders, Clash, David Bowie, Black Flag, and sleep. Her favorite teacher is Louise (sometimes) and she hates brats. Her idol is Chrissie Hynde and she spends her free time playing soccer and basketball. When asked her claim to fame, she answered, "I'm not sure."

Michelle Evans

Michelle just completed her first year at Crossroads. She enjoys tennis and gymnastics. Her favorite group is The Police. She also enjoys sports and plays on the girls' basketball team. She plans on becoming very rich.

Dianna Feltmeyer

Dianna has made it through her first year here at Crossroads. She was soon known to her friends as Dee or Shorty. Her favorite music is rock. She is interested in films and Shakespeare. Of course she enjoys Dr. Who and C.I.A.. She really hates people who spell her name with only one "n". She says she is famous just because she is! Her favorite remember when is the time Carol exclaimed that she was a day late and a year behind.

Maureen Ferry

Maureen, also known as Q.O.P.S., has flown through her third year at Crossroads. She likes photography, U2, and Echo and the Bunnymen. She enjoys music and plans in the future to become rich and famous. She says she really can't stand funny noses. Maureen is known best for telling "Guess you had to be there" stories. She spends her free time playing for the girls basketball team or working on the advisory board.

John Frankowski

Here we have "Scab", better known as John Frankowski. He has presided at Crossroads for a year and a half, and his future goal, if you cannot guess, is to become a lawyer. As everybody knows, all lawyers' hobbies are tennis and, of course, music. He is the only future lawyer who's idol is Sid Vicious. His favorite music comes from the Dead Kennedys, he loves computers, tennis and his favorite teacher is the one and only Carmel. And, of course, all lawyers hate the Smurfs and little kids. His claim to fame is to look weird but act normal.

Liz Frey

Liz just finished her third year here at Crossroads. Also known to some as Parrotface, she says "I enjoy listening to KWUR." Some of her favorites are U2, basketball and Anita. She likes Reggae music and plans in the future to get involved with a radio or a music career. Her idols are James Dean and Mighty Mouse. In her spare time she enjoys watching old Cheech and Chong movies, and staying on the look out with Lisa, for those sexy hoosiers!!! Liz's personal remember when was when she had a six-day weekend with four other people.

Mar-Shai Freeman

Mar-Shai, also known as Rockie, just finished with her first year at Crossroads. She spends part of her sparetime playing basketball for Crossroads, and the rest of the time reading or looking in mirrors. She plans, in the future, to receive a scholarship to Princeton University. Mar-Shai claims that she is the best intern in school, a title that we will not dispute with her.

Audrey Garrett

Chico (alias Audrey) has been with us for three years. She has developed a great talent for Bo and Ralph watching. She also enjoys skating, Prince, basketball, softball and of course her favorite teacher is Carol. She loves visiting Roosevelt High and has been known to be "damn right crazy;" in fact that is her claim to fame.

Emily Jackson

Emily just breezed through her first year at Crossroads. Em, as we call her, enjoys daydreaming, and listening and dancing to music. She likes many musicians and Steve Jonak. Her idols are Inks, Duran Duran, and Adam Ant. She tells us she really hates obnoxious people and nosy people.

James displays his 1984 spring collection

Adam Johnson

Adam just finished his first year at Crossroads. Adam spends most of his time playing electric bass. Adam hopes to model his playing after John Entwistle who is his idol. When Adam is not playing the electric bass, he spends his time twirling his pencil around his thumb. What would Sigmund Freud say?

Jennifer Jones

Jennifer "J.J." Jones has been at Crossroads for two years. She is interested in ice skating. She is really crazy about Michael Jackson, and Boy George. Prince is her idol, and she wants to get backstage to see him. Her claim to fame is that she has taste. We hope to see her next year.

Ben Kubie

Mike Levine

Mike Levine, Crossroads' star basketball player, is in his first year here. He enjoys basketball, tennis, algebra, and popular music. His pet peeve is that his brother goes to the same school, and his claims to fame is his jump shot which, Coach Chris Campbell proudly states, is the finest in the school, an understatement at best.

Ally Lyner

Ally seems to have developed an affinity for changing the spelling of her name. Originally, it was "Ali," now it's "Ally." By the time the yearbook goes to the printer it will undoubtedly be something else. This makes it very difficult for teachers to remember who she is. Ally believes that extra-curricular activities are bad for one's health, which is why she religiously avoids them. She enjoys reading, watching television, and redecorating her room. Ally is a devout soap opera fan - she watches them all.

Lisa Marcus

Lisa just completed her second year at Crossroads. She spends her time watching sexy hoosiers with Liz Frey and partying. Some of Lisa's favorite people are Jim Morrison, Jimmy Dean, and Johnny Rotten. Lisa says she enjoys listening to "good" music. Lisa's claim to fame is getting people here at Crossroads to use the phrase "Spare me!". Lisa also enjoys the art of photography.

Ronald McDaniel

Ronald also known as J.R. has just completed his second year at Crossroads. J.R. enjoys girls and sports, especially polo. He plans to become a clothes designer, a doctor, or a romance novelist. J.R. says he really likes Mr. T, Mr. Rogers, and Remington Steele. J.R. says he enjoys spending his free time listening to opera or country/western music.

Patrick McKee

This is Patrick McKee, but everyone calls him Pat. He enjoys playing Dungeons and Dragons as well as working with computers. Pat wishes to become a computer programmer after graduating. This is his first year at Crossroads; some are begging him to return.

Irene Pappas

Irene Pappas, a.k.a. "Renie," enjoys going to Ted Drewes and partying. Her claim to fame is her nickname, and her pet peeve is "Beeny Boppers." Her interests are curly hair, and she idolizes Madeline Kahn. Irene's extra-curricular activity is playing soccer.

Miriam Newburger

See that girl there! She is the one who likes the Police! She is the one on the soccer team, she has been here for three whole years...

Remember "Working"? Miriam was the waitress, and she did a bang-up job. Miriam's lifelong desire is to "spend the rest of my days in California." We all certainly hope she gets there, because Miriam was just born for the surf, sun and sand.

See Molly run? Run, Molly, run!

Chris Parker

Chris has just completed his second year at Crossroads. Chris really has no future goals, and he spends most of his time with Paul Ciampoli. He also idolizes Rob Ciampoli (Paul's father). His claim to fame is never being able to say that he came up with the right answer in any class. Chris would like us all to know that he feels he has a rather healthy mind, although he never seems to use it. Well Chris, we would love to see you back next year.

Anna Elise Price

Anna Elise Price is in her third year at Crossroads. Her hobby is reading and writing Science Fiction, and she can't stand people who can spell. She wishes to "become a doctor and then take over a third world country." Her favorite pastime is anthropologically studying earthlings, and her extra curricular activities consist of helping bums and talking on the telephone.

Jim Schonlau

Jim has just finished his first year at Crossroads. Jim enjoys writing computer programs and Jim also says he wants to learn a lot of fighting styles. We can all see that Jim is a violent person. But seriously, Jim is sweet-hearted and just likes to stand his ground. Jim also enjoys swimming and listening to the Police. Jim is going to go to college to be a veterinarian (if he can save up the money). After making a lot of money being a vet, Jim wants to own a lot of horses and maybe retire on an island.

Nathan Stevens

Who is Nathan Stevens? All he will say about himself is that he has no nickname, his favorite group is Asia, and he hates punk rock. Apparently he has a friend named Nobody who knows a whole heckuva lot about him. Have a great summer, Nathan. May be next year we'll figure out who you are.

Jennifer Sweet

Jennifer just completed her third year at Crossroads. She says that she enjoys The Police, U2, and David Bowie. She also enjoys balloon flying and Chicago. In the future, she plans to sleep comfortably. She says that she hates uncomfortable beds. Jenny spends her spare time photographing.

Ursula Thayer

Ursula, who will put a curse on you if you call her "Ursy", is presently writing a fantasy book. Ursula collects marbles, unicorn memorabilia, and dungeon accessories. She plans to go to the Rhode Island School of Design, and become an architect. Ursula is also a fanatic about television shows like "Remington Steele", the "A-Team", "Manimal", and "Automan."

Paul Trunell

What can we say? Not much. When Paul was asked, he replied, "I was born a poor black child..." Yes, Paul, we've heard it all before. Paul, a.k.a. "Daddy Luv," came to us from CODASCO and is not proud of it. He is in the ninth grade but likes to think that he is a senior. His favorites include Lawrence Welk, whipping small animals, and Richard. One of his interests is Pat's hairy set of legs. His idol is Thornton Mic, and his pet peeve is Thornton Mic. He is known for being average.

Ursula Wayne

Ursula has been at Crossroads for four years. She is noted around school for talking about Duran Duran, who she says is her favorite group! Her idols are the Cabbage Patch Kids. Ursi, as she is also known, is very much into drama and plans to become an actress. She really hates people who are fake! Oh, and she wants you to remember the time she ate the dried fruit from the couch.

William Wohlt

William, A.K.A. Professor, has been at Crossroads one-and-half years. He enjoys model building and Dungeons and Dragons. According to the Professor, he has no idols or any pet peeves. He claims to be different, because he says, "I'm smart, and I visit New Guinea." We hope to see you back next year, William.

Barbara Wingfield

This is Barbara's third year at Crossroads. Barbara enjoys playing basketball and likes to watch reruns of "Leave it to Beaver." "Babs", as she is also known, enjoys listening to Lionel Richie, Michael Jackson and El DeBarge. In the future "Babs" would like to become a journalist. Watch for this friendly person walking or running up and down the halls.

Gene Woods

Gene has just completed his third year at Crossroads. Gene, or Geno as some of us call him, really enjoys soccer and football. He plans in the future to become a mean, lean, dancin' machine or a political assassin. He enjoys watching Belker on Hill Street Blues and Mr. T.

8TH GRADE

Mark Adler

Mark Adler, a.k.a. "Mr. Sarcasm," is in his second year at Crossroads. Mark enjoys listening to The Clash, The Sex Pistols, Steve Martin, and The B-52's. Mark's goal for the future is to be the Premiere of Russia or the Prime Minister of England. Mark idolizes Hong Kong Fooey, and he loves to eat junk food.

Stamina and agility: The key to a successful basketball team

Laurel Allen

Laurel has been at Crossroads for three years. She's a prime example of the ideal "Crossroadian"; intelligent, charming, and only a little crazy. Laurie, who is 5'8", doesn't like it when people say, "You're so tall!" She's very talented, and when asked, she'll tell you she wants to be in a Broadway play. She enjoys basketball, algebra, and classes with Richard. Laurie says she won't be back next year, but then she said that last year and the year before...

Amy Bannes

Amy has been at Crossroads for a year. She aspires to be a lawyer, and to be married. She is interested in Duran Duran, ceramics, and skiing. Her idols include Rocky and Bullwinkle, and she hates teachers, sisters and brothers. We hope to see her smiling face back to Crossroads next year.

Caitlin Barton

Who else can be seen at Crossroads after lunch, with her finger in her mouth, digging out the last particle of food left over from lunch? There is only one person at school who does that, and it is our own Caitlin "Cat" Barton. Cat started attending Crossroads when she was in seventh grade, she is now in eighth grade. Caitlin likes to talk, sing songs she doesn't know and likes the melodic tunes by David Bowie and the B-52's. In the future, she would like to roll Q-tips in a Q-tip factory.

Tiffanie Cason

Tiffanie is the little dancer at Crossroads. She loves to dance and act and also takes ballet. Tiffanie also enjoys sailing and likes to listen to Culture Club. Her future goal is to become a rich business woman. We hope she makes it. Tiff has been at Crossroads for 2 years. We hope she comes back.

David Flieg watches as workers begin construction of the Ricky Dome

Emily Covey

This is Emily Covey. She is also known as "Em." Her hobbies are swimming and raquetball, but her biggest interest is boys. Emily's idols are John Stamos and Bruce Penhall. As far as the future is concerned, Emily plans to go to college and get married. Emily enjoys classes with Diane and we hope to see her next year.

Drew Davis

Here is Drew Davis. Drew is in his first year at Crossroads, and he is in the eighth grade. His hobbies are playing video games and biking. He also enjoys playing baseball and basketball. His goal for the future is to get a good job.

Katie Duffy

K-K-K-Katie Duffy is in her second year here. Her favorite teachers are Richard and Diane. She loves the Eurythmics. She also enjoys tennis. Her future goal is to be wonderfully rich. She hates fake people, because she is so real....o.k. Katie, get out of town. She and Caitlin are best friends.

Michelle Farris

"Bitty Farris" (a.k.a. Michelle) has been at Crossroads for two years. She has no claim to fame other than her lust for sports. She plays soccer and basketball. She plays soccer very well, and her basketball skills are - well, we won't talk about that. Her goal in life to be a doctor but just playing will suffice for the time being. Michelle participated in the fall drama production, in which she played several major roles.

David Flieg

David Flieg has been at Crossroads for three years. David's nickname, for some reason, is Dave. David has a massive interest in sports; he likes soccer, baseball, and hockey. Because of his interest in hockey, his idol Wayne Gretsky of the Edmonton Oilers. David's big pet peeve is homework. When David grows up, he would like to be a big, professional hockey player who is rich and famous. David is actually quite well known, if not for his magnificent personality, for his amazing height. Stick around, Dave, someone around here must like you.

Brian Frey

Here's Brian Frey. Brian is known to his friends as "Boo-Boo." Brian loves to collect stuff and then sell it. He loves rock music, golf and basketball. Someday, Brian plans to join the army or fly off into the clouds by joining the Air Force. He really likes Quickdraw McGraw, but he spends most of his time playing basketball.

"But, Carol, how many Californians does it take to screw in a light bulb?"

James Fujita

James Fujita wants to go to Crossroads for the rest of his life. James, known as "Earl" to his close followers, can always be found wearing a leisure suit (polyester, of course) and listening to Easy 102. Earl idolizes Barry Manilow. His favorite teacher is Kem, even though he doesn't know who she is. He claims to be of Canadian origin and likes animals. A big soccer jock, Earl aspires to be a Las Vegas performer if he ever escapes from Crossroads.

Yvette Gaines

Yvette Gaines has been here for two years and has had a hand in nearly twenty percent of all personal remember whens at Crossroads. She is always everywhere. Yvette's pet peeve is fake jokes, although her sister Kim may say that that is her claim to fame. She idolizes Michael Jackson, Prince and El Debarge. She wishes, someday, "to be rich and outrageously happy." Yvette's favorite remember when is when Tiffanie danced through the mill worker scene.

Emily Gold

Emily Gold came to Crossroads as an eighth grader. Emily likes to shoot people in the eye with plastic b.b.'s as an extra-curricular activity. Her favorite song is that classic theme from the "Love Boat." No one else could admire Nancy Reagan as much as Emily. Emily would like to get a job at a Hostess factory. She wants to be the one to stuff cream inside the Twinkies.

Joe Gerteis

This is Joe's second year at Crossroads. His favorite hobby is staring at the wall. Joe spends most of his time listening to music by The Clash, Gary Numan and P.I.L. In the future, Joe would like to be the owner of a radio station. Joe's idols are John Lyden and Joe Strummer ("I like his teeth," says Joe). Joe can be found following Bobby Sweet around and looking out of it. Joe thinks that the name of the yearbook should be "A Bunch of Ugly Mugs from Crossroads."

Atiya Hakeem

This is Atiya's first year at Cross-roads. She enjoys horses and piano lessons. Her goal is to own her own horse someday. Atiya has no idols, and her favorite teachers are Diane and Tanda. Her only pet peeve is having her sister go to the same school.

Amy Himmeger

Amy Himmeger has been at Cross-roads for two years. Her nick name is "Bitty-Hoe," and she has a hobby of playing the piano. She likes soccer, softball, American studies, Richard, Diane, and Tanda. She is interested in cute guys and wants to be an interior decorator. She dislikes being called ugly by Michelle. She is exactly like everyone else and has no extra-curricular activities to her credit.

Terence Holmes

Terence Holmes, a.k.a. "Big T" (Little T? Mr. T?) has been here for two years. He's best known as "The kid with the limo." He loves his financial status and hopes to continue it throughout his mortal life. Terence has no idols, unless you count Ralph Lauren, Calvin Klein, Pierre Cardin, or Gloria Vanderbilt.

"Oh God, Bobby, your crush on Marjie is so childish!"

Amy Keating

Amy seems to have questions about what her interests really are. Her goal is to write for the Thursday Notice. When you ask her about her idol, you'll be surprised to know that it is Captain Kangaroo. She doesn't have any favorite music. Her favorite sport is nothing but sleeping, and her favorite class, if you can't guess, is lunch! Her favorite teacher is Richard. She absolutely can't stand people who don't take showers.

Kualani Kennedy

Kualani has been at Crossroads for two years. She enjoys sports, especially soccer and horse back riding. She's often seen with Irene "the Greek Freak" and Michelle. She is very humorous and always seems to make a joke about everything. Even though she's in the Middle School you'll see her once in a while in Upper School announcements. (Just ask Sidney Camp.) She is known for always somehow ending up in the wrong class. We will remember when she fell asleep in Dick's American Studies class and started to snore.

Jason Kippenberger

This is Jason, known to his friends as "Kipp." He's a great admirer of the drums. He loves to play soccer and likes to hear music by Simon Phillips. It looks like Jason is athletic as well as having musical talent. Jason is just getting interested in girls so look out.

Lori Koch

Here we have "Coke." Can you guess what her real name is? Of course you can, it's written on this page somewhere. This is her second year at Crossroads, and she has developed a great talent for roller skating, boy watching, talking (ask any of her teachers), and listening to the radio. Her favorite teacher is Richard, and her interests, as with any other normal teenager, are boys, clothes and music.

Anthony Mackall

"Jerome," a.k.a. Anthony, has been at Crossroads for one year. He likes dance music, basketball, artifacts (the class), and Richard. His only interest is sports. The eighth grade jock, his only goal for the future is to go to a good college. He has no idols, and his only pet peeve is dumb broads. He has no claim to fame, and his only extra-curricular activity is basketball.

Sharif Mebed

When you hear someone yell, "Hey, Jerk," you know that they are addressing Sharif. He has been at Crossroads for two years, and his favorite hobby is watching the girls. His favorite group is The Jam. His favorite teacher is Richard, and someday he wants to be a trash collector.

Kim lends a hand as construction of the Ricky Dome continues.

Kimberly Moore

Kim is in her third year at Crossroads. Known for her practicality, Kim thoroughly dislikes anyone who thinks he/she is better than someone else. She loves sports. This can be witnessed in her avid participation in softball and basketball. Kim's talent doesn't just stop at sports, she was a member of the Crossroads Singers and tried out for "Working." In her spare time, she works on the Middle School Activities Counsel.

Fred Neis

Here is Fred. Fred is well rounded, as you can plainly see. He enjoys playing soccer, listening to Men at Work, and working on math and science. Fred's got it all: musically, physically and academically; and he's got a dream. He would like to become a soccer champion in his later years. We hope you have a great summer, Fred.

Gregory Nichols

Greg Nichols, or Greg (whichever you prefer), has been at Crossroads for three years. His hobbies are soccer, basketball and computer. He is unsure of what he wants to be when he grows up. He still has plenty of time to decide. His claim to fame is his interest in the "Kill the Alligator/Preppy Campaign." When asked what his extra-curricular activities are, Greg simply replies, "They're censored." His only pet peeve is homework.

Amy Nowack

Amy is known around Crossroads for her height. In fact, her nickname is "Shorty." Her hobbies are ship building and reading puritan books. Her favorite group is The Fixx. Her favorite sports are soccer and basketball. Her only idol is Mel Gibson. Her extra-curricular activities include basketball and, of course, phone calls. Her pet peeve is the yearbook biography form.

John Ryan

John loves soccer and is very good at it. He idolizes Steamer forward Tony Glavin. He says he can't stand the game of golf. The best thing about John, according to him, is that, "I am a fun guy."

"...and baby bear said, who's been sleeping in my bed?"

Elizabeth Sampson

"Betsy" has been at Crossroads for a year. She is still a rookie here at Crossroads, but she has already picked Richard for her favorite teacher, and her favorite class is "Fulton's American studies." She has developed an interest in telephones, swimming, rollerskating, watching T.V. and listening to her radio. She has already claimed her hairstyle as her claim to fame. Her future goal is to become a lawyer.

Shannon Sanderson

Here's Den Mother Shannon Sanderson. She has spent two years at Crossroads. Shannon is very conservative; one can tell by her dress and haircut. In her spare time she can be seen on Delmar with her girls. In the future, Shannon would like to make an in-depth investigation as to whether or not Mr. Rogers sweats during the summer with his sweater on.

John Sata

John is in his third year at Crossroads and in the 8th grade. He likes skiing and soccer, and his favorite teacher is Dick Fulton. "Groo" would like to be a doctor, but doesn't like liver (obviously not surgeon material). His idol is Fred Neis, and the fact that his name is Sata makes him different from anyone else at Crossroads. Groo's personal remember when was when Dick fell asleep in class (at least 8 times).

Damien Stahl

Damien "Raheme" is a first year student at Crossroads who enjoys country music, playing cricket, and art. His favorite activities are sitting at home with his parents and break dancing. His idols are Rob, Arthur, Carol, Dee, and Mr. Rogers.

Bobby Sweet

This is Bobby's second year at Crossroads. His hobbies are jacks, skipping rope, Walt Disney movies, hopscotch and Old Maid. He is interested in Match Box car engines, unicorns, and styrofoam. His favorite teachers are Diane and Dick, and his favorite class is algebra. His favorite station is easy 102. He hates dirty people. His future goal is to live in a swamp, and be 3 dimensional, and write the phone books. His idols are Gus the fireman (on "Leave It To Beaver") and the guys on the Camel Lights cigarette ads in the January Movie Goer.

Jon Tucker

*Jon is someone who can claim not to act his age. He says he likes Buck Rogers, space ships, dragons, and dwarfs. (Jon must have a very wild imagination This was Jon's first year, and we would enjoy his return. In the future, Jon, we're looking forward to you enlightening us (a-hem) with your imagination

Wendy Todd

Wendy, more affectionately (or infectionately) known as "Ashly," has blessed us with her presence for two years. To put it lightly, no one will ever forget Wendy. She has touched each of our lives, several times. Wendy loves singing, and as Gary will testify, has a beautiful voice. Ashley wants to be a performer one day, and we all believe she will, because as she says, "I'm Wendy and they're not!"

Brian Way

Brian has just completed his second year at Crossroads. Brian really enjoys music and sports, especially soccer. He also likes Richard. In the future, Brian plans to become a doctor. Brian says that his face is his claim to fame (well, that can be taken two ways, Brian). Brian spends most of his spare time playing soccer.

Gretchen White

Gretchen has been at Crossroads for three years now. Her only hobby is sleeping. She is totally into acid rock and weekends. Gretchen idolizes hoosiers. Gretchen hangs around Nika, Emily Covey, and Amy Nowack most of the time. She is a died-in-the-wool humanitarian when it comes to animals. One of Gretchen's claims to fame is her unique ability to make up strange nicknames for other people. Right, "Toons?"

The Middle School boy's champion soccer team: trying for best dressed award were Dylan Calsyn and Bobby Sweet

7TH GRADE BIOS

Nicole Alexander

I say N-I-C-K-Y, the N's for Nicole, the I's for independent, the C's for Crossroads (where she's been for two years), the K is for killer, that's the way she looks, the Y is for yellin' when she has to hit the books. Her favorite music is soul which she likes to hear on the radio.

Elizabeth Bartley

Elizabeth "Wizzie" Bartley is a first year student at Crossroads. She likes rock, soccer, basketball, and parties, and would like to be a photographer. Tom Herr, Dane Iorg, and Keith Hernandez are her idols, and she plays the piano.

Eve Birge

Eve doesn't have a nickname, which is amazing considering her status as a second year student at Crossroads. She likes laughing, Magic 108, Michael Jackson and DeBarge. She hates people who pinch cheeks. Her claim to fame is her hair cut, and taking dance at Washington University. A fun, Crossroads kind of girl.

Rebecca Bischoff

Rebecca is famous for being the younger sister of her older brother. She loves to listen to the sounds of her favorite band, The Police, while doing homework for one of her two favorite teachers; Chris or Anita. If David Bowie came to St. Louis it would be near impossible to keep Rebecca and her friends, Chris and Alicia, from going to see their IDOL!

Maroula Bratakos

Like doll collecting, swimming, and pizza? Then you'll like Maroula! Maroula is a first year student at Crossroads. She swims on the Clayton Shaw Park swim team, and plans to go to college. She doesn't like "people who take a long time getting stuff out of their locker and don't let you get yours," so whoever's locker is next to Maroula's, watch out.

"Eric, I think there was something in my cookie."

Dylan Calsyn

Dylan is a first year 7th grader here at Crossroads. He enjoys soccer and watching TV, and his favorite teacher is Anita. He is interested in playing basketball and his plan for the future is to be 7'4" tall.

Chris Cooper

Chris has been at Crossroads for two years. She doesn't like "some people!" but will accept you if you like Duran Duran, reading and Harvard. "Not much" makes her different from other people, but she says "I do lots of things!" outside of school. What could they be?!!

Justin Early

This is Justin's first year at Crossroads, and hopefully his only year in 7th grade. Seriously though, Justin seems to be a pretty well-rounded guy. His interests and hobbies include hunting, fishing, soccer, and would you believe it? literature. Justin's pet peeve is social studies, and he would like to move to Alaska, where he could fish and hunt to his heart's content.

Alicyn Dahms

This girl likes "collecting ribbons from my swim meets," literature, computers and animals. She hates people who pull her hair, and her brother. She's been at Crossroads for two years. Guess who she is, yet? Alicyn Dahms, of course!

Seventh grader Wizzie Bartley chooses to ignore the excellent dental hygiene example set by senior Chrissi "Brush-Brush, Floss-Floss" White.

Michael England

Michael or Mickey is in 7th grade. This is his first year at Crossroads. Michael is quite an athlete. He enjoys tennis, baseball, basketball, indoor and outdoor soccer. He is interested in acting and wishes to become a "famous", professional actor.

Raleigh Freeman

Raleigh, a seventh grader, is in his second year at Crossroads. He enjoys model-building, soccer, and science. His favorite teacher is Anita. Raleigh, an extremely cute seventh grader, hates it when strangers rustle his hair. The goal which he hopes to achieve in the near future is to get straight A's on his report card.

Brian Gilby

Brian has been at Crossroads for two years. His hobbies are watching movies, and playing soccer. He hates it when people pinch his cheeks, and he enjoys listening to Billy Idol. He wants to be doctor and his favorite teacher is Anita.

Edna Fuller

Edna Fuller has been at Crossroads for eighth years and is still having a hard time graduating because she is missing about half of her credits because of lack of attendance. Edna's favorite hobbie is riding the busses and meeting exciting drivers. We hope Edna is here next year. Although many students have never seen Edna because she was here only 12 days.

Daniel Gohagan

Daniel "Reagan" is a 1st year student here at Crossroads. His hobby is knife collecting, and he also likes the martial arts and animals. He has no idols and no "particular" future goals. His favorite musical group is the Who, his favorite class is science, and he hates it when the dog gets on the family couch. Daniel seems to be a peace-and-animal-lovin' kind of guy.

Rashida Hakeem

Rashida has been at Crossroads for one year and has no hobbies, no interests, no future goals or plans, and no idols. She does, however, like the color blue. Rashida hates people who "take a long time at drinking fountains", and feels that "Nothing" makes her different from others. She takes riding lessons, and that makes her a little different, doesn't it?

Wizzie continues the demise of her teeth under the watchful eyes of her classmates

Jonathan Hoare

At the age of two (on a vacation with his parents in Denver), Jonathan wandered off into the Colorado wilderness; he didn't return until five years later. During this time, Jon was raised and educated by a family of wolves, whose ways and teachings play an important role in his present thinking. Now reunited with his parents, Jon enjoys many great activities in the great outdoors, such as hiking, camping, and fishing. He is also an active sportsman, his favorite game being soccer (sorry, Chris). When he grows up, Jon says he wants to become a veterinarian so he can help and repay those who helped him. Now, however, he is happy in the 7th grade at Crossroads.

Nikki Hudson

Nikki has been at Crossroads for one year, and has progressed far in her career as "Prince's #1 Lover." She likes collecting Prince memorabilia, and stuffed animals. She plans to be either a model or a lawyer (similar occupations) and her favorite musicians are Prince and New Edition. She starts her conversations with "What's up, Dog," and her idol is (guess who) Prince!!!

Ronda Jackson

Ronda's hobby is laughing, which isn't too suprising. Considering the fact the she's been at Crosroads for one year, and there's always plenty to laugh about here. Her idols are Michael Jackson, DeBarge, and her Mom. Ronda plans to become a rich doctor. She doesn't like tickling, pinching, or "kissing relatives in public." She likes dancing, camping, and modeling, and her favorite music is jazz.

Aaron Johnson

Aaron has been at Crossroads for a grand total of one year. Aaron seems to be a classic character. He plays guitar and enjoys basketball (give him a leather jacket and a pair of boots and he'd be straight out of a '50's social athletic club). But, lo and behold! Hence, ho! Look at what he's doing when he's not playing guitar or basketball or praying to Pete Townsend. Well, how about that! An artsy-fartsy/rock'n'roll/jock.

Alicia Judy

Which is really Alicia Judy (choose one):

A) a 7th grader prep who likes to collect stickers and likes the Police, Yes, Chris Cooper and Rebecca B. She has no interests, activities, goals, or plans for the present or future. Nickname "Leach."

B) a veteran 7th grader with a wonderful personality, good disposition, a Ferrari, and a $500 a day candy and coca-cola habit. Nickname "Bubba"

C) a short, middle-aged Russian KGB agent. Nickname Classified.

D) all of the above

E) none of the above

ANSWER: A) 10 points

However if you chose either B) or C) award yourself 5 pt.

Rachel Kelsey

Rachel's out-of-the-ordinary hobbies include whittling and sewing. She also enjoys rock music, skating, swimming, dance, drama, ceramics, and soccer. Rachel's main interests are guys and dance. She, one day, hopes to go to college and get a degree in engineering.

Ilya Kolchinsky

Ilya has completed his first year at Crossroads. He likes role-playing games, Star Trek, and his idol is Einstein. He hopes to finish next year with six A's. Ilya enjoys Atari and radio, and feels his claim to fame is the time he spends with himself.

Eric gives a live demonstration of just how Coca-Cola can improve your IQ.

Seth Kroeck

Seth is in his first year at Crossroads. His hobbies are guns, and his favorite teacher is Anita. He enjoys hunting and fishing and has no nickname. He claims he is "so smart" but wishes to move to Alaska. What intelligent person would want to leave Crossroads?!!

Tawna Ledesma

This is Tawna's first year at Crossroads. She is in the 7th grade. Her hobby is collecting stickers. Her favorite teacher is Anita and her favorite class is Literature. Tawna's other interests are animals and gold. In the future Tawna plans to be a computer programmer.

Scott Levine

Scott, who has no nickname, loves computers and computer piracy. He also loves Def Leppard, basketball, and literature, but won't admit to a favorite teacher. His idol is Larry Byrd, and he plans to go to the University of Wisconsin. Scott's pet peeves are people who show off, and who else?--Howard Cosell.

James Lindsley

Jim, in his first year at Crossroads, collects airline bottles, matchbooks, and beer cans. His favorite teacher is Anita, and he also enjoys drama, soccer, football, and the Who. Jim, who is not fond of those who call him Jimmy, believes he has a good sense of humor. Some of you may disagree. Jim's idols are Pete Townsend and Paul McCartney, and one day he hopes to make a lot of money.

Molly Lynch

Molly, a seventh grader, has been at Crossroads one year. Her hobby is reading and her favorite things include "Def Leppard, the Fixx, soccer, Social Studies, and Chris" (Well, no one is perfect!). Though she has no avid interest in music, she hopes to be a scientist in future life. As a matter of fact, she is already pursuing her career in science through various experiments with her chemistry set, squirrels, and various stray animals -So, if you live near Molly, and one evening your cat doesn't come home, don't worry...

This photograph is the product of a project by the Middle School photography class.

Tracie McKinney

You may know Tracie better as Shortstuff, her popular nickname. Actually, you may not know her at all, considering how busy she is. She swims, collects posters, rides her bike, and takes dance-jazz, tap, and ballet, to be exact. She also enjoys the color blue, boys, music, and some sports. Tracie is in her second year here, and considers herself extremely wild and outgoing.

Thorton McPheeters

Thorton is in his first year at Crossroads. It's not hard to find Thorton because, like many other Middle Schoolers, he is probably wearing pants which are far too big for him. That is unless the weather outside is subzero, then you'll find him in short pants and a short sleeve shirt. We all hope to see the amazing Thorton McPheeters next year. What a guy! What a name!

Rosalynn Miller

Unless you're fond of being physically attacked, don't walk up to Rosalynn and pinch her cheeks. On the other hand, she does enjoy basketball, drama, literature, and dance. Rosalynn's idols are Andre Cymone, Prince, and DeBarge. Her favorite teacher is Anita, and she enjoys being with her friends. Rosalynn plans to be a doctor.

Jason Morros

Jason is an out of the ordinary person. Ask him what his hobby is, and he'll tell you collecting mice. Ask him what his future goal is, and he'll tell you it's to be a communication worker. Ask him what his pet peeve is, and he'll tell you it's dirty, smelly people. Jason also enjoys computers, travelling and acting.

Tim O'Sullivan

Tim is in 7th grade, and in his second year at Crossroads. His special interest is working with models, model cars that is. Tim's favorite group is the Who. He enjoys baseball and his idol is Ozzie Smith. Tim enjoys Pre-Algebra.

Gary Ratin

Surprisingly, Gary Ratin's favorite teacher is not Anita-it's Tanda. Gary wants to become a soccer player and a violinist-an interesting combination. And, to confuse you even more, his idol is Roger Moore. A little more in line with his soccer playing abilities, Gary also enjoys football and basketball.

Chris Revolt

Chris Revolt, also known as "Oscar", can easily be described as a tennis freak. Tennis is his hobby, main interest, extra-curricular activity, and future plan. The fact that his idol is Jimmy Connors comes as no surprise. What else can we say about Chris? I guess, he's just a tennis-lovin' kind of guy!

Alicia Smith

This is Alicia. See Alicia? Alicia is in 7th grade! Alicia like Duran Duran. Can you say that? Alicia has no hobbies and does nothing in her extra time. She has no nickname (at least no known nickname) and, surprise!, has no idols! Alicia forgot to fill out a yearbook form so we are 'winging' this one. Can you tell?

John Thebeau

John Thebeau, a seventh grade student, is in his second year at Crossroads. His hobbies include soccer, tennis, waterskiing, excelling in each and every one equally. His musical taste is very liberal--the Police and anything else that isn't Country or Heavy Metal. His favorite teacher is Anita. He plans to attend Stanford when he graduates, a mere five years away, and then move on to law school. We will look forward to seeing John around these hallowed halls in future years.

Tara Sweets

Tara Sweets feels that nothing makes her different from every one else, and her pet peeve is not an uncommon one: people popping their gum. Tara collects stuffed animals, and outside of school she enjoys going to dances, getting together with her friends, and planning surprise parties. She is a big fan of Michael Jackson, Debarge, and New Edition. She is planning to become an actress. We all hope to see her next year.

Adam Tobin

This Adam, he has just finished his second year at Crossroads. Adam likes to play basketball and football, as well as liking to wear red and white clothes. We can all see Adam is athletic and patriotic. Adam says he has a very vivid imagination. Let's hope his imagination brings him back next year.

Sela Thompson

Michael Jackson and DeBarge fan, Sela is in her first year at Crossroads. She dislikes little brothers, but likes literature, journalism, and Anita. Sela enjoys reading, and lists drama among her extracurricular activities.

Eric Vincent

Eric is like most other seventh graders in that Anita is his favorite teacher. He enjoys playing Dungeons and Dragons and soccer. Eric wants to become a famous actor, which isn't surprising, considering Humphrey Bogart is one of his idols. He grows rapidly disgusted at the sight of a person chewing gum--his pet peeve.

Malik Williams

Because Malik did not fill out his year-book questionnaire, specific information concerning his hobbies, favorites and interests are not available. He wears glasses. He broke his foot and was on crutches through most of the spring. He seems real smart. According to his Social Studies teacher, Malik will either become President of the United States or be arrested for doing something illegal that Brian Gilby told him to do.

GRADERS

Corry Brazil

Remote control cars, planes and women are Corry's interests and hobbies. "Corky" is a sixth grader. His favorite type of music is rock'n'roll. After school you can find Corky racing bikes. If ever you see him in the halls, don't make squeaky noises because he can't stand them.

Russell Forbes

Russell, has been here for one year. His favorite music is by the Clash. He likes all sports. Russell's favorite teachers are Dick and Tanda. His claim to fame is his red hair. As far as future goals are concerned, he plans to become a neurosurgeon.

Katherine Keller

Katherine, a.k.a. Kate, wants to become a doctor. Her hobby is swimming and her favorite subject is science. Her extra-curricular activity is competitive p.e., and her pet peeves are her little brothers. Katherine has big plans. She wants to become a doctor, which is appropriate since her favorite class is science.

Marty McKee

Marty, in her first year at Crossroads, has only one pet peeve-people. Her hobbies are collecting Garfield and unicorn memorabilia. She enjoys rock music and math class. Her favorite teacher is Marjie. Marty's future goal is to go to college, and her only extra-curricular activity is sleep.

Michelle Merson

Michelle "peanut" Merson says that her hobby is harrassing her sister. She enjoys cooking (especially putting extra pepper in her sister's helping), swimming, social studies. Her favorite teacher is Ms. Jacobs (a former teacher from Flynn Park). Her idol is her Aunt Sue. She claims to have a weird and odd personality and can't stand having people touch her hair. She likes watching the A-team, scar-ing her sister, and babysitting. She hopes to go to college and work in a law-er's office.

Stacy Messenger

Stacy, alies Staples, has, like the rest of the 6th grade, been at Crossroads for only one year. She is a member of Metropolitan Ballet Co. of St. Louis and her claim to fame is that she is the only ballet dancer in her class. She enjoys listening to classical music and she has a sticker collection. Her favorite teacher is Marjie. Her future ambition is to be a great dancer.

Erricka Moorehead

Have you heard anyone singing in the halls of school? If you have you know it is Erricka. One thing that makes Erricka different is her singing. Her hobbies are skating and music, and her favorite sport is tennis. Her favorite teacher is Marjie and she likes to cook. Her goal for the future is to become a doctor. Her idol is Martin Luther King Jr.

Chelsea Somers

Chelsea "Chel" is Crossroads' tallest sixth grader. She enjoys science and math class. Her favorite teacher is Tanda. Chelsea's idols are Cary Grant, Humphrey Bogart, and Evelyn Nesbit. She wants to go to medical school after Crossroads.

The yearbook staff would like to apologize for omitting Yanna's photograph. Charlie had to leave town right before the yearbook went to the printers and therefore we were unable to get the photo. She is a real cute little girl and if you want to see a photo send a self-addressed envelope to Charlie this summer.

Yanna Palmer

Spider, spinach, liver and roach-hater Yanna is in her first year at Crossroads. Tap dancer and actress, Yanna enjoys Lover Boy, Police, Quiet Riot (and she claims to be a quiet person), softball, soccer, math, reading Ju. ly Blume books, and having Marjie as a teacher. Between worshipping Rick Springfield and Sally Riede, swimming, and listening to music, and animals (she has a lot of pets). Her claim to fame is her odd sense of humor.

Dawn Towles

Who is always the first and last person at school? Dawn, sometimes known as Don. Dawn has been here for one year and is known around school for her silliness. Dawn's favorite teachers are Tanda and Ray. Her hobbies are basketball and baseball. Dawn's future goals are to become a teacher. Her idol is Michael Jackson and she likes pop music. The one thing that gets on her nerves is when she has a lot of homework.

CLASSES

Administration and Business Seminar

This year at Crossroads began what may become a tradition. The Administration and Business Seminar class, created by Arthur Lieber, teaches students a touch of personal finance, media, labor unions, advertisement, and marketing. The students use the knowledge that they gain from the class by managing school projects. The class is made up mostly of juniors and seniors, who organized and ran the World's Finest Chocolate sales and sold World's Finest easter bunnys. Money raised from the chocolate sales went to pay for the new showers installed this past fall. The class is responsible know for organizing the annual Duff's Dinner, sales of "The Campus Pack", and T-shirts, and other activities. The class utilized the computers to keep accounts as well as census information. Said Lieber, "This class gave students an opportunity to engage in a real life practice, to be better prepared and to assume their own financial responsibility.

C.I.P.O.

Crossroads Institute of Public Opinion [C.I.P.O.], is truly an institution. In C.I.P.O. (pronounced see-Poe), students went to Clayton, Chesterfield Mall, Downtown, and other high traffic areas to take surveys and polls on such things as Nuclear War, "The Day After," baseball wives, desegregation, and politics. The students then entered their results into computers, tabulated them, and published them in the Opinion Magazine.

Diane shows how to use the computer fraudulently: "It's easy."

Crossroads has nine computers in room six this year. Computer teacher Diane Picard and her idol, math-teacher-turned-computer-teacher Laura Sterman, teach students how to program the computers to tell dirty jokes on command and to count to one million. A plan is under way to market these valuable programs to large computer corporations. The computers have also been put to use by the Administration and Business Seminar to record student activity fund transactions. Crossroads' ultimate goal is to put computers in both rooms four and five also.

Art at Crossroads

Louise Cameron and Charlie Sitzer head Crossroads' art department. Some of the years art courses are Ceramics, Drawing, 3-Dimensional Construction, Art Media, and Fundamental Arts. The Art Media class made plaster masks and calendars. The 3-D Construction class made day pots and sculpture-in Sculpture while in Drawing, they simply drew. In Art Fund., a beginning art class, chairs were painted for the art room. All of the art students helped with "Deja Vu", the mural on the wall of Majik 108.

Model Building

Carol Lieber's class, Model Building, builds models. "The class is delightful, very self-directed with a great deal of imagination." In taking the class, students can become more aware of where they live.

Carol uses the "architectural studies approach;" students are given a list of circumstances, which they use to come up with a model of the situation. In the first project, 5xDesk Top, students were to make a three dimensional model of the objects on a desk top, five times the original size, using paper and cardboard. This model was displayed in the lobby for several weeks as a monument to pencil pushers everywhere.

Sculpture

Charlie Sitzer heads Crossroads' sculpture department. The sculpture students used wood, wire, and other materials for their projects. The projects leaned toward the abstract and were extremely creative. The projects were displayed throughout the building for everyone to enjoy. The students in the third trimester Sculpture class worked on the set for the spring drama production of "The House of Blue Leaves."

Photography

“Because of the lack of attention in education to developing the visual sense, more artists are bringing there sensibilities to improve the situation. So I feel lucky to be able to teach in a school like Crossroads that allows me the freedom to teach what I do.” This was the comment of photography teacher Charlie Sitzer.

Charlie teaches both Upper and Middle school photography. The work that appears on these pages was done by his students.

“WORKING”

“See that building...” “Working”, Crossroads first musical production, was a success. Each of the shows at The Chase Park Plaza Hotel’s Crazy Horse Saloon was a full house. November 17th, the shows preview and dress rehearsal was videotaped by William England, father of Mike, who was a newsboy in the show. Not only was the show fun for the participants, but a learning experience. The cast, crew and tech. were made up of students ranging from seventh grade to twelfth. They learned showmanship, teamwork, and many found that show business is not as easy as it looks.

Drama teacher, Anita Grunmann directed the show, with musical assistance from music teacher Gary Scott, and Chris Jackson, a professional musical director. The show was accompanied by a four member ensemble of, Chris Jackson, Gary Scott, Mike Monsey, and student, Ted Epstein.

Suzanne Drebes, a junior, choreographed the show with Anita and worked countless hours perfecting the dance steps with the cast.

Charlie Sitzler, photography teacher and art instructor build the set for the show with the help of several students. Senior, Dennis “J.R.” Gorg was technical director and with the help of his crew, did a great job lighting the show as well as sound effects.

Overall the show was a big success for everyone at Crossroads. Hopefully Anita will do more musicals.

On the Wall: “Deja Vu”

For four weeks staff and students could be seen on the front parking lot either moving huge rollers, or perched on the scaffold, painting pieces of the mural on the wall of Majik 108. The mural is the collective effort of Bob Fishbone and Sarah Linquist of “On The Wall Productions,” students from Crossroads and others.

Monday, November 14, the mural “Deja Vu” was officially dedicated as the entire school looked on. “Deja Vu” was funded by Young Audiences, the St. Louis Arts and Humanities, the Missouri Art Council, Pantheon Corporation, Majik 108 and Crossroads School.

Assemblies

Crossroads had more than its fair share of assemblies this year. From the Math Scholar Quiz, to the opera groups, to the many speakers and presentations, each interested, educated, enlightened, and refreshed us. (Indeed!)

While most assemblies occurred between classes, the adolescent workshops superseded school altogether. Coordinated by Marian Hilfrink (see faculty bios), the workshops dealt with issues such as pressures of adolescence, decision making, sexual abuse, adolescent sexuality, and chemical dependency (drugs, to the layman). Other assemblies took place after school. Bill Ferzacca and Katie Nelson, authorities on adolescent development, supervised forums through which parents, teachers, and students were able to talk about topics as varied as parties, curfews, and familial misunderstandings.

BINGO!

For two trimesters Crossroads had Bingo games in our lobby every Wednesday night. Crossroads got a Bingo license in the hopes that it would increase our general income. The attendance, however, wasn't as great or as regular as anticipated, so Bingo has been postponed until later, possibly next fall. A group of parents headed by Carol Smith, Kristen's mother, cleaned up after Bingo and provided refreshments. We might have had much better luck in our pursuit for lucre if we had more Native Americans in the student body.

Boys' Varsity Soccer

The Season

It was a season no team would dislike, but it wasn't the season in which the Crossroads soccer team would win the Christian soccer championship.

Despite the 10-3-1 record, the varsity boys came away with a bad taste in their mouth when the season had ended. The team started off on the right track with a 10-0 trouncing over Little Rock. But they quickly came back to reality with a 5-1 loss to their old enemies, Gateway Christian. They were able to put two wins away before dropping to Faith Christian 3-2.

Five games had been played, and Crossroads (3-2), the team that had been predicted to finish first, was off to a shaky start.

Coach Steve Jonak held a long meeting with the team to see what the problem was. He felt the team wasn't playing together very well and was inconsistent. This soon changed as Crossroads went undefeated the rest of the way. Posting a 6-0-1 record before the playoffs, it appeared as if Crossroads was unstoppable. They had victories over Whitfield(3-2), Grace Christian (6-0) and (3-2), Faith Christian (6-0), Metropolitan School (11-0), and a 6-0 victory over Tower Grove. Their only tie was against Tower Grove who they played to a 0-0 tie.

It had been almost two weeks, since Crossroads had played its last game when they went on and to play their hearts out on a warm Saturday, November 15.

First they had to beat Whitfield in the semi-finals to gain a berth in the finals. The team came in a little cocky and it showed. Whitfield struck first after a mix up in the goal area. Crossroads got the equalizer when Don Ingerson moved his first goal of the day. Whitfield was able to bounce back when their forward came down the middle and beat goalie Jeff Melnick to his left side. Just before halftime, Ingerson was able to gain his second goal of the day. That was the last for Don, who broke his nose later in the day.

In the second half, center-half-back Rick Gold scored twice after he got good passes from Than Park and Rick's brother, Jeff. Whitfield scored one more time, and after a close call with about one minute remaining, the final whistle blew. Crossroads was going to the finals.

Not many scoring chances came about in the game with Faith Christian, mostly because both teams were tired. After a 0-0 first half, Crossroads finally got on the board with a goal by Rick Gold, his third of the day. Crossroads made a big mental mistake by playing defensively and sitting on the ball. Faith Christian was too good of a team to let good scoring chances go to waste. With six minutes remaining on a corner kick, one of their forwards broke open and knocked the ball into the corner of the net.

JV Boys' Soccer

The 1983 season for the Middle School Boys' soccer team, was the best. Coach Ray Butler put together a well constructed team that captured the University City League title.

After starting off slow with a 3-3 tie against Lourdes, they defeated Whitfield 4-2. They still were playing somewhat sluggishly, and it showed in their defeat to Delmar Harvard 1-0. The J.V. team was off to a 1-1-1 record and appeared headed in the wrong way.

They untangled themselves, and with strong defense by Jason Kippinger and good goal tending from Greg Nichols, the J.V. team allowed only 5 goals the remaining seven games of the season.

With excellent goal scorers like Sharif Mebed and Dylan Calsyn, who was the leading goal scorer, they managed to put away 26 goals in only seven games.

The final game of the season, for the championship was against Clayton at Heman Park. Crossroads disposed of them rather nicely with a 3-0 shut out. It was the Junior Varsity boys' first championship, and they certainly played well enough to deserve it.

Girls' Soccer

The Crossroads Girls' Soccer season ended abruptly after four games. Before being kicked out of the league, for being too young and tiring out the other teams, they compiled a 2-2 record. The only bright spots for the girls were the strong offensive play of forwards Sam Krukowski, and Liz Sawyerr. They also received strong goal tending from Sandy Baber and Alison Dunlap. Had they not been kicked out, they could have gone a long way, but unfortunately it was not to be.

Co-ed Volleyball

One of the most nonrecognized sports here at Crossroads is volleyball. In only their second year of Olympic-style power volleyball, Crossroads has improved from a 16-14 record last year, 9th place overall, to an 18-12 record this year, good for a 2nd place finish in the Mid-County YMCA League.

In the playoffs, Crossroads won first game, but lost in the 2nd round 2-1 to a team called the Go Getters.

The volleyball team is co-ed, and consists of both staff and students.

Next year, the volleyball team should have the skill and experience to take first place.

When the yearbook was being published, the Crossroads boys and girls softball seasons were just getting underway.

The guys were sweating it out on the school parking lot during spring training.

Coach Ray "Whitey" Butler had high hopes for a few of his veterans such as Dave "Sleeping Beauty" Dougherty, and Ben "Ozzie" Kubie. "Whitey" also had high expectations for rookie Willie "McGee" Wohlt, who was to bat clean up and was driving in most of the runs with his amazing power. Once, during batting practice, Wohlt hit the softball an incredible 550 feet, right through the window of Leon Strauss' office, setting a new Crossroads record.

Softball

I guess the girls could say the guys got the short end of the stick, training at the Crossroads parking lot, when the girls were a little more expicite at St. Petersburg, Florida. But the guys were good sports about it and had no hard feelings.

Coach Ellen "Ironside" has developed her own strategy or Theory similar to Newtons' law of gravity which will supposedly make all of the difference for the girls.

Ellens' strategy seemed to be working early in the season with an impressive record of 2-0, with victories and extra inning home runs by Cydney Camp.

Standing Row: Kim Moore, Heidi Domzalski, Laurel Allen, Liz Sawyerr, Audrey Garrett, Amy Struckhoff, Michelle Bauschard, Nelle Byrne, Marty McKee, Yvette Gains, Katie Duffy, Amy Keating

Kneeling Row: Beth Sindel, Sherri Stover, Anuke Corbett, Stacey Messenger, Erricka Moorehead, Dawn Towles, Maroula Bratakos, Ellen Irons (coach)

Sitting Row: Sela Thompson, Mary Ellen Alexander, Cydney Camp

Boys' Varsity Basketball

123

Crossroads' Varsity Boys' Basketball season was one of disappointment, for both the team and the coach. This was a team with great ability despite their record of 4 wins and 13 losses.

Coach Chris Campbell, an experienced basketball man, knew he had to do some rebuilding, and he knew that like any great team it would take them year or two to mold.

A key factor in their 4-13 record was that there were many new players on the team that had never played together before. But they were able to put that behind them and play like they belonged out there.

Crossroads had a tough start by dropping their first three games, but Coach Campbell had his team practicing hard and it payed off with a win against Whitfield. Then they fell into a slump, and couldn't put anything together, dropping their next six games. The ball just seemed to be taking the wrong bounces, as they lost several close games. Soon, things changed for Crossroads as they were able to put together consecutive victories against Northwest Christian, including a 66-39 trouncing.

They then entered the Tower Grove Tournament and pulled out a much needed victory over Gray Summit 54-44 before losing and finishing 6th in an eight team tourney.

Coach Campbell is optimistic that Crossroads can turn themselves around with such returning players as center David Daugherty, who was the most valuable player in the tournament, point guard Pat Duffy, who averaged 10 points a game, Mike Levine, who set a single game record with 32 points, defensive specialist J.R. McDaniel, and 6th man Steve Lindsley. The team's bench will also have to stay strong, if the Varsity Boys have any hopes of a future winning record.

Congratulations are in order for coach Campbell who coached well under tough conditions. As he told us "Next year, watch out!"

Girls' Varsity Basketball

The Crossroads Girls' Varsity basketball team had a tough, losing season, but it was their best ever. Their final record was 3 wins and 7 loses, and they dropped two in the Grace Christian tournament finishing fourth.

After starting off to an 0-4 start they put together three consecutive wins, including a 51-6 thrashing over North West Christian. They also went on to defeat Yeshiva and Whitfield before dropping their last fire.

Honorable mention goes out to Devonne Hutson, who led the team with a total of 77 points. Her sister Brenda, was an excellent defensive forward, who grabbed many rebounds. There was Alison, who added an extra dimension to the forward line. And in the final three games 8th grader Laurie Allen added a spark, including a 17 point performance.

Coach Ray Butler will try to rebuild his team, so they can come up with an even better record for the next season.

Butler analyzed the season as this, "It was a building year, with many first year players. They improved through the course of the season, and they showed great potential by being the only team to defeat Whitfield."

The Crossroads girls' middle school basketball team, led by Laurie Allen, Amy Novack, Kim Moore, and Michelle Faris, had an excellent season of 5 wins and only 1 loss.

Their biggest margin of victory was a 23-6 trouncing over Hope Lutheran. Laurie Allen had the most points in one game with 12, and 5'9" Amy Novack was the team leader in rebound. Excellent defensive play by Kim Moore and Michelle Faris gave the girls their best record in their brief history.

Coach Ray Butler summed up the season:

"The J.V. girls was the most successful of all the year's Basketball teams at Crossroads. They defeated some of the strongest teams in the area. I was really impressed with the way the first year players picked up tactics and skills from the veterans, Laurie and Kim. Next year's Varsity girl's season will be a good one."

JV Boys' Basketball

The Boys' Middle School Basketball team had a disappointing season of 4 wins and 6 losses.

The games were fun to watch anyway as our punk rock players James "Mac Truck" Fujita and Bobby "Sid Vicious" Sweet, tore wildly across the court. Scott Levine while being less colorful, scored quite a few baskets with the help of Dylan Calsyn, Damien Stahl, Greg Nichols and other members of the team.

Coach Ray Butler pointed out the fact that the team "didn't have experience, but worked well for first team players. We also suffered from lack of size, but I am looking forward to next year when my 7th graders come back fresh and turn in a good season."

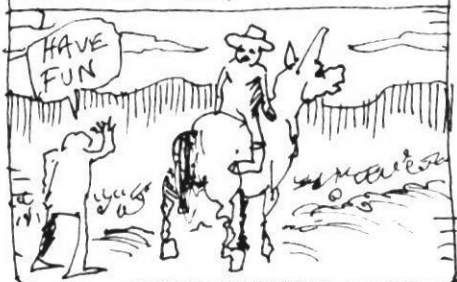

Thanks Ray, we love you anyway.

The Upper School Advisory Board is a group of students that represent a cross section of the already well blended Crossroads' melting pot.

The Board(of whatever year applies to this yearbook)extended Off-Campus, set guidelines for parties, co-sponsored the Adolescent workshop(see Assemblies), and rapped with the teachers about the students.

Middle School

You've probably wondered where most of the school's activities come from. Some are created by the Upper School Advisory Board. Now the Middle Schoolers have set up their own Activity Council, and they've come up with some good ideas. For example, it was their idea to make the library a place to eat lunch.

This council is authorized by Rob Ciampoli, the Director of the Middle School, and Ray Butler, Crossroads' Athletic Director. The council consists of seven students, and according to Ray Butler, "gives the students a chance to communicate with different people in the school. Whatever goes on in this advisory is up to the Middle Schoolers."

This council has accomplished such things as, Spirit Day, Dances, and parties. It works alone and with Upper School Advisory Board to "make Crossroads a better place to be."

A.F.S.

"Our purpose is to expand our horizons...We want to make friends around the world." So sayeth Patty Costello, our A.F.S. chapter president. Martine Matzke and Vee Lind worked with Costello and a group of students to sponsor visitors from afar and send Crossroadians far far away. They did this through the American Field Service. The person away from home stays in gutters and alleys in the town and country they happen to be in. No, just kidding. Actually, they live in a house with people of the country. They become a part of that family and nation while they are there.

Crossroads' program is an especially strong one. It has recieved and/or sent students in each of its four years of existence. This year we sent Darryl Flaherty to Japan and Helen McKeel to Brazil for the summer and Megan Ferry to West Germany, where she will stay for a full year. We are also happy to have Liz Sawyerr with us this year from Ghana.

DeBaliviere at Kingsbury Block Party '84

This year was the third year for the DeBaliviere at Kingsbury Block Party. The Block Party is an event held annually that allows students to raise money for their school trip fund. This year students spent countless hours working on mailings, flyering and running booths at the block party itself. There is a committee that sets everything up and this year it included the following people; Dennis Gorg, Jr., chairman, Liz Frey, public relations, David Dougherty, construction and security, Shawn Michael Domzalski, entertainment director, food coordinator, Josh Kohn, labor manager, and Micky McNamara, secretary and general operations.

First Row: Barb Wingfield, Kathy Stover, Jennifer Armstrong, Anuke Corbett, Audrey Garrett, Shawn Michael Domzalski, Devonne Hutson, Chrissi White, Kristin Smith, Heidi Domzalski.

Back Row: Irene Freydina, Chris Campbell, Ted Epstien, Ricky Gold, Don Ingerson, Josh Kohn, Dan Kinkade, J.R. Gorg, Heather Bascom, LaNelle Coleman.

Not Shown: Stephen Lindsley, Heather Moore, Charlie Sitzter.

This year the Chronicle staff was composed of an elite group of Crossroads students. Among these students are : Chrissi White, Editor-in-Chief, Devonne Hudson, News Editor, Kristin Smith, Feature Editor, Shawn Domzalski, Copy Editor, Dennis Gorg, Typeset Editor, Stephen Lindsley, Photo Editor, and Don Ingerson, Sports Editor. But these folks know it couldn't have worked with out the hard working staff consisting of Ricky Gold, Kathy Stover, Irene Freydina, Heather Moore, Heather Bascom, Dave Flieg, Ted Epstien, Heidi Domzalski, Darryl Flaherty, and others who helped. The staff was assisted by Chris Campbell and Arthur Lieber, faculty advisors, and Charles Sitzter, Photo Advisor.

The Chronicle staff will have published at least eight issues of the Chronicle, of at least four to eight pages each, by May 30th. The staff's motto is : If it isn't in the Chronicle, it didn't happen.
