

PRESIDENT of the UNITED STATES

If I ~~were~~ the president of the United States I'd make this country a better place to stay. To start off with, I'd get the United States back to friendly terms with Cuba.
Then I'd see that better schools were built, with better experienced teachers. I'd also like to see better lunches in the schools. I'd let people who take hard drugs take them without being looked up only if they would take them in a certain place which I would have one of in every city.

I'd make sure that the community centers had more activities. The reason for that is because there are plenty of places for youth to go to, there just isn't anything to do in them. For activities in the centers I'd have such programs as; grooming, sex education, drug education, ... I'd also try to cut down on the juvenile delinquency. Most of all if I were president I'd get to know the people of my country. It's good to know people and get their opinion of things. There's ~~one~~^{two} things I think I'd ~~want~~ do first and they are building more low cost housing because new apart ments now days are ~~for~~ too high a price. The problem is builders build homes in the slum areas where the low cost poor are. Those homes are up to $300.00 a month. Well that's going on all over the city so where are the poor to move? That's why more low cost housing should be built.

The second most important thing needed to be done is build making more jobs. I think I'd be the ~~q~~ best president ever if I'm even president!

^{elected}

The END!
